INTRODUCTION

TO THE

REVISED RECORD, 1916

FOR many years members of the Condit family have gathered in annual reunion at Condit, Delaware County, Ohio. These reunions were first held at the home of Edgar M. Condit, where the first issue of the family genealogy also had its beginning.

In the summer of 1905, Aunt Jane, as she was affectionately called by all who knew her, the widow of Edgar M. Condit, visited her relatives in New Jersey and a social gathering of members of the family was held in her honor at the home of her nephew, Orlando Williams, in West Orange.

At that time it was suggested that an Association be formed, to include all the descendants of John Condit, the Ancestor, and that such reunions be held annually. The Condit Family Association was there organized and the following officers were elected: William L. Condit, President; Jotham H. Condit, First Vice-President; Ira H. Condit, Second Vice-President; Rev. Charles B. Condit, Secretary and Treasurer, with Aaron P. Condit, Edward A. Condit, Oscar H. Condit and Orlando E. Condit (deceased) members of the Executive Committee. Since its organization the Association has held an annual reunion until the present year, and has enrolled nearly four hundred members.

In 1907, when the one hundredth anniversary of the incorporation of Orange as a town was celebrated, the Association caused a monument to be erected in the old burying ground in memory of our ancestors buried there, with the names of sixteen members of the family from Essex County, soldiers in the American Revolution, inscribed on the reverse side.

At the request of many members of the family for a revision of the record of 1885, the Executive Committee was authorized by the Association, at its meeting in 1913, to secure such a revision, and Fillmore Condit, Oscar H. Condit and Edward I. Condit were appointed a committee to superintend the matter.

Subsequently the actual work of revision was committed to Edward I. Condit, Secretary of the Association, son of Jotham H. Condit, one of the compilers of the first record.

The work of securing the data has consumed a great deal of time and has required a very extensive correspondence with relatives in all parts of the country. The interest in the work has been very encouraging and helpful. Where errors in the earlier edition were discovered they have been corrected, and the records of several lines of the family which were incomplete or did not appear at all in the first book have been brought up to date and incorporated. Others could not be extended through lack of co-operation on the part of members of the families.

There are some families in this country who spell their name "Conduitt," and claim descent from Fielding Conduitt, who was born in Wales about the year 1736, and who came to this country and settled in Maryland. Correspondence with members of this family shows no proof of relationship.

This revision contains about 40 per cent. more data than the first record. Owing to this increase the Appendix and Supplement which appeared in the first book have been omitted.

The pictures which appear in the book were furnished in response to a general invitation issued to the family by the Committee.

In the search for material for the record, it developed that many families had become so scattered during the years that oftentimes it was impossible to obtain from individual members information about very near relatives.

The Committee earnestly hope that the records contained in this book may result in the renewal and perpetuation of family ties.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Rev. Charles B. Condit, President; Fletcher H. Condit, O. R., First Vice-President; William D. Condit, Second Vice-President; Oscar H. Condit, Historian; Edward I. Condit, Secretary and Treasurer; William L. Condit, Fillmore Condit, Orlando E. Condit (deceased), Edward A. Condit, Elmer Condit, Henry L. Condit, Frederick S. Condit, C. Brookfield Condit, William T. Bowman, Dr. Austin B. Bowman.

EDITION OF 1885

A DESIRE to know one's ancestry is inherent in mankind and has the sanction of divine authority. The Jews were commanded to keep and maintain their family line of descent, and a failure in this respect was sufficient cause to exclude them from the temple service. While no obligation rests upon the present generation to preserve their family record, we have the promise of God that He will honor those who honor their ancestors, and this allegiance can be rendered no more effectively, perhaps, than in preserving their record and good name in a work of this nature.

The practice of keeping a family record is supposed to be quite general, but when research is made for the purpose of tracing definitely the genealogy of one's ancestors, it is often found that such record extends only to the parents or grandparents, and in many instances is quite incomplete, and frequently copied in small books or on loose sheets of paper, thereby rendering it difficult to obtain reliable information.

In the autumn of 1880 a beginning was made to trace the descent of John Cunditt, who was said to be a resident of Newark, N. J., in 1678. At that time, at the home of Edgar M. Condit, of Condit, Ohio, the authors were shown a manuscript barely covering two pages of foolscap paper, being an abridged record of some of the early families, written in 1850 by Hon. Silas Condit, of Newark, N. J. From this nucleus researches were commenced as a matter of personal interest and information. After considerable correspondence with members of the different families, frequent requests were made for the publication of the history thus gathered, to which we reluctantly acceded, and thereupon entered more systematically into the details of the work—the result of which is now before the reader.

The effort to produce a reliable and correct record has consumed much valuable time and study, an immense correspondence and no small amount of travel. An earnest endeavor has been made to secure the names and dates of every family of the name of Condit in this country, and none have been omitted whose addresses or place of residence could be ascertained.

Perfection in the work is not claimed, but where names are found misspelled, or errors occur in dates, such are mainly due to copying—in some cases from second and even third parties. Where blanks occur (and fortunately there are but few for a work of this kind and size), they are partly due to inability to personally procure the required names and dates, but in most cases to a failure on the part of others to furnish the information requested.

No attempt has been made to trace the family name beyond the seas; as citizens of the United States we content ourselves with an expression of gratitude to the mother country for her production of our worthy Christian ancestor.

To preserve uniformity in the work, we have adopted the generally accepted form of spelling the name, believing that it will meet with approval. A respectable number still adhere to the name "Condict," probably with even better authority than those who spell theirs differently, as we find many early wills and deeds on file signed "Cundict." The reader will observe that the first two persons of the name in America used different methods of spelling, viz., "Cunditt" and "Cundict," neither of which are now in use. Those adhering to the name of "Condict" are, for the most part, descendants of Peter, of Morristown, second son of John, the ancestor.

The modern plan of numbering each individual of the descent, at the time of their birth, has been adopted, and it will be found convenient in tracing the further history of such descendant, as the number is preserved later on where a record is given of the marriage and family.

The course of descent is carried under six heads, corresponding to the six sons of Peter, the only married son of John, the ancestor, and in the order of their birth. For convenience, the index is also made in six parts, enabling the reader more readily to find his or her name than could be the case were there but one general index.

We take this occasion to acknowledge our obligations and express thanks to all who have so kindly assisted us in our researches, and hope they may find as much pleasure in the possession of this book as we have in compiling it. And we trust that some one may be found to continue the record, and possibly excel us in furnishing to the world a better and later history of the family.

ANCESTRY OF THE CONDIT FAMILY IN AMERICA

JOHAN CUNDITT is first known in this country in 1678. He was the purchaser of lands "in the bounds of the town of Newark," Essex County, N. J., in 1689 and 1691. This land was conveyed to him in two deeds.* The first, from Richard Hore, dated February 27, 1689:

"For several good causes and lawful considerations me hereunto moving, but expressly for and in consideration of thirteen months' board and fifty shillings have granted and sold unto the said John Condit eight acres of upland in the town of Newark and bounded on the north by Hans Albers—on the east by the river—on the south by said Condit,† and on the west by a highway.

(Signed)

"RICHARD HORE, by his mark."

The second is from Richard Laurence, March 24, 1691, and conveys to John Condit, weaver, nineteen acres of upland, for a lawful sum of money; this lot is described as on the plain commonly called the "Mill Brook Plain."

"On the north side of the mill brook bounded on Pisaick River east—a highway west—by John Bruen south—his own lands north.

(Signed)

"RICHARD LARENCE."

John is known to be the ancestor of nearly all bearing the name of Condit or Conduct in the United States. Of his ancestry nothing is certainly known. Tradition says he came from England or Wales. If from either, it is probable he was a native of the latter, as we learn from residents of that Province that there are those now living there bearing the name "Conduit." Reasons exist, however, for believing that he may have been of English extraction, as the name has honorable mention in English history.*

John Cunditt, of Norman descent, was married first in Great Britain, where his wife died. He came to America in 1678, with his son Peter, and settled at Newark, N. J., where he married, second,

*By the courtesy of the Secretary of the New Jersey Historical Society we have taken copies of these papers from a volume of manuscript deeds, embraced in their noted and valuable archives of the early history of New Jersey. The orthography of the name is preserved as we find it in these old records.

†As will be seen by this deed, he was already the owner of lands, the record of which has not been discovered.

*John Conduit, Knight, married in England a widow, Catherine Barton, who was a niece of Sir Isaac Newton, with whom they resided during the life of Sir Isaac, and inherited his estate. He succeeded Sir Isaac, also, as Master and Warden of the Mint, and died Jan. 20, 1739, aged 80 years. She died May 27, 1737, at 49. Their monument is at Westminster Abbey. They had one child, a daughter, who married a Mr. Wallop, eldest son of Lord Lynton. The estate at Kensington descended to the Earl of Portsmouth. (See "Life of Sir Isaac Newton," by David Brewster.)

"Deborah," by whom he had a son, John, who died a minor. There is also reason for the belief that Deborah had a daughter by a former husband, named Mary, who married Captain John Morris, who died October 22, 1749, aged 83 years; she died December 10, 1761, aged 84 years, and her grave is in the Orange burying ground.

The father died in 1713. His will, now on file at the office of the Secretary of State, Trenton, N. J., is as follows:

In the name of God, Amen: I John Cunditt of Newark in ye County of Essex and Eastern Division of New Jersey : weaver : being sick and weak of body but of perfect mind and memory thanks be given unto God. Therefore calling unto mind ye mortality of my body and knowing that it is appointed unto men to Dye Doe make this my Last will and Testament in ye following manner and form:

PETER CONDIT (of John) married, 1695, Mary, daughter of Samuel Harrison. They had:

1. SAMUEL, b. Dec. 6, 1696.
2. PETER, b. 1698 or 1699.
3. JOHN, b. 1701.
4. NATHANIEL, b. 1703.
5. MARY, b. 1705 or 1706.
6. PHILIP, b. April, 1709.
7. ISAAC, b. 1711 or 1712.

Peter, the father, died in 1714. His widow survived him, and upon her (assisted, doubtless, by the eldest son, Samuel, then a young man of 18) devolved the care of the family. The prayers and teachings of the father undoubtedly, under the blessing of God, added much to the moral character of the children; but to the mother, coming, as she did, from a pious ancestry, must we attribute the larger part of the work of their early training and religious education. She probably lived with her mother-in-law, as reference is made in the early town records of Newark to "two widows Cundits." (See records, page 127.)

Three of these sons of Peter, viz., John, Nathaniel and Isaac, settled at the foot of the Orange mountain, on the east; Samuel, the eldest, settled between the first and second mountains, then in Newark township—now the township of West Orange, N. J. The daughter, Mary, is said to have married W. Gould, and may have died without issue, as we have been unable to trace any descent. The other sons, Peter and Philip, settled in Morristown.

Following is a copy of the will of Peter Condit, also on file at Trenton, N. J.:

In the Name of God Amen: This seventh day of february In ye year of Our Lord one Thousand Seven Hundred and Thirteen Alias fourteen and in ye 12th year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady Anne by ye Grace of God over Great Brittain, ffrance and Ireland, Queen Defender of ye faith &c. DESCENT OF SAMUEL CONDIT

OF ORANGE, N. J.

FIRST GRANDSON OF JOHN, THE ANCESTOR

SAMUEL CONDIT [1] was born at Newark, N. J., Dec. 6, 1696; he married first, in 1722, Mary Dodd, born Nov. 8, 1698, and who died May 25, 1755; he died July 18, 1777.

About the year 1720 he purchased land lying between the Orange mountains, in what was afterwards called Pleasant Valley. We have the authority of tradition that this land was purchased of the Indians; its first private ownership, as the records show, was vested in Samuel Condit, and its extent was such that during his lifetime he gave to each of his five sons fifty acres, and on each lot thus donated he erected a house, and also gave to each son a family Bible. He reserved to himself the homestead with about seventy acres of land. Three of the farms have ever since remained in the family line of descent.

It is probable that Samuel Condit had little apprehension of the great influence in civil and church relations in life which awaited his descendants in Orange, N. J. They have had a continuous representation in an official capacity in the churches of this place for more than one hundred and eighty years.

Like his grandfather John, his first care was that each son should possess a copy of the Holy Scriptures, an act which, combined with the meagre items of his history, which are still preserved, indicate the sturdy Christian citizen. His selection of a farm was a fortunate one. Taking the Livingston road west from Orange, by way of Eagle Rock, and by a long ascent reaching the top of the mountain, the valley beyond stretches out in a panorama of neat and productive farms, with comfortable and tastefully built farm houses. Here was Samuel's home—where,

"In sober state,
Through the sequestered vale of mortal life,
The venerable patriarch guileless held
The tenor of his way."

From here, during the many years of his manhood, was he wont to take his way over the mountain to the Orange church, as often as the time arrived for Divine worship; and from here was borne his sacred dust to the Orange burying ground, where a simple slab bears the inscription, "Samuel Conduit, Sr., died July 18, 1777." He had survived his first wife more than twenty years; he outlived the second wife, Mary Nutman (widow of Amos Williams, born 1700), whom he married in 1756, and who died Feb. 18, 1777. Their graves are near their husband's, while in close proximity is that of his third son, Samuel, whose monument bears the name "Samuel Conduit, Jr." Here, also, repose the ashes of many useful members of the Condit family. As we pause and remove from the stones the accumulated moss of a hundred years, we can read the names of benefactors whose pure lives were worthy examples to succeeding generations.

[9.] JOTHAM CONDIT married Rebecca Pierson (of Samuel). He lived on a farm adjoining his father's, and died July 9, 1752, aged 25. They had a daughter, who married Billington, who had a son named Jotham.

[10.] SAMUEL CONDIT married first, in 1754, Mary Smith (daughter of Joseph Smith, of Orange), born 1733, died May 26, 1770, aged 37 years. He was a farmer on the land inherited from his father, and is known to have been a very exemplary man, truly pious and God-fearing; he died in middle life, Nov. 18, 1776. His children, thus early deprived of a father's counsel, afterward located on the eastern side of the Orange mountain. Two of them attained positions of eminence in church and state.

He married second, in 1774, Martha Carter (widow of Stephen Wilcox, of Elizabethtown, N. J.). After his death she married Deacon Paul Day, of Bottle or Long Hill, Morris county, N. J., who died October 30, 1802, in the 78th year of his age. She died at the residence of her son Samuel, Nov. 4, 1815, in her 79th year.

[13.] CAPTAIN JONATHAN CONDIT married Jemima Condit (daughter of John), born 1736. He was captain of militia, Second New Jersey regiment, in the Revolutionary war. He died Aug. 29, 1823. Rev. James Hoyt, former pastor of the First church of Orange, in his Church History, says of Jonathan:

"He was a conscientious church-goer, and in his old age, being poor and having no vehicle but an ox cart, he and his wife rode regularly to church in that. Not caring to show it, he would stop as he entered the village, hitch his cattle to a tree, and thence walk to the House of God."

[21.] REV. IRA CONDIT (of Daniel) married, in 1790, Sarah Perine, daughter of Henry Perine, of Freehold, N. J. She died Jan. 21, 1816. Instructed in God's law from early childhood, under the training and example of pious parents, he early gave his heart to his Saviour and began his preparation for the ministry. He was ordained to preach at Newton, N. J., in 1787. Subsequently he had charge of the churches of Newton, Hardwick and Shappennack. In 1794 he was installed over the Reformed (Dutch) church at New Brunswick, N. J., and was for several years vice-president and professor at Rutgers College. He died June 1, 1811, at New Brunswick, N. J., after an illness of nine days. He was eminent for his learning, prudent and successful in his ministry.

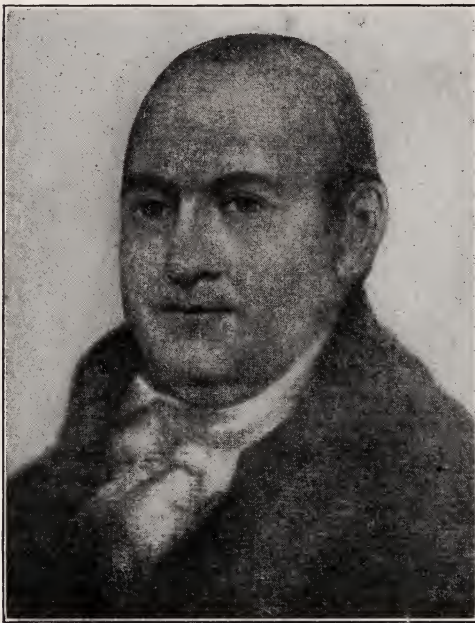

His last words were, "Prepare for the life to come; may you be of the righteous who shall meet with the saints of God." His son, Daniel H., who died two months later, was a young man full of promise, possessing talents of a superior order. His death was greatly lamented.

[23.] DR. JOHN CONDIT (of Samuel) was born in Orange, N. J., July 8, 1755. He was educated in the public schools and then studied medicine. June 29, 1776, he was commissioned surgeon in Colonel Van Cortlandt's battalion, Heard's brigade. After the war he practiced his profession and was the loved and trusted adviser of his patients. His practice extended throughout the county of Essex. He was also interested in public affairs and was prominent in the establishment of the Orange Academy in 1785. He was elected to the Sixth and Seventh Congresses (1799-1803). In 1803 he was appointed United States Senator to fill a vacancy and served until 1809, when he was again appointed to fill a vacancy, and later was elected to fill out the term, which extended his service in the Senate to March 3, 1817. He was a member of the State Legislature for nearly twenty successive years. He subsequently served as Collector of the Port of New York. He married first, Abigail Halsey (of Isaac), born May 7, 1760; died Oct. 10, 1784. Married second, Rhoda Halsey (of Isaac), born July 9, 1763; died Sept. 13, 1834. He died in Orange, May 4, 1834. His monument in Orange cemetery bears this inscription:

"SACRED TO THE MEMORY OF DR. JOHN CONDIT.

"A patriot, soldier and surgeon during the struggle of his country for freedom; a member of the State Legislature, and a Representative and Senator in the Congress of the United States for thirty years in succession. His honors were awarded him by grateful constituents for his sound and vigorous intellect, stern integrity, and unswerving patriotism in time of peril and throughout a long life. On the fourth day of May, 1834, he died in Christian hope, revered, respected and beloved by all who knew him, aged 79 years."

Rev. Aaron Condit was born at Orange, N. J., 1765, which at that time was in Newark. His mother, Mary Smith, daughter of Joseph Smith, was of Scotch descent.

Shortly after the death of his father Aaron was placed in the family of his uncle, Silas Dodd (who married a sister of his mother), where he remained four years; then he entered a grammar school at Bottle Hill (now Madison), N. J., where he spent five months; he then entered a grammar school at Newark, N. J., under the care of Rev. Dr. Alexander McWhorter, and continued there until 1782. He then went to live in the family of his eldest brother, John (who was a practicing physician at Orange, N. J.), with a view of studying medicine; this purpose, however, was abandoned in 1786, for reasons which he gives at length in his autobiography. He was converted in 1785, and was admitted to the Orange Presbyterian church in August of the same year, during the pastorate of Rev. Jedediah Chapman.

One of the reasons he gives for the relinquishment of the study of medicine was that he had formed a desire for a thorough collegiate education, with a view to entering the ministry. He entered school and pursued his educational course until the autumn of 1787, when he entered Princeton College; after a little more than a year at college, he began a theological course under the care of Rev. Dr. Chapman, his pastor, and while thus engaged he had charge of the Orange Academy, as a means of support.

He was licensed to preach by the Presbytery of New York, at Morristown, N. J., Jan. 7, 1790, after which he preached for a time in the vacant pulpits within the bounds of this Presbytery. On the first of January, 1793, he accepted a call to the church at Stillwater, N. Y., and was installed its pastor on the 15th of the same month, by the Presbytery of Albany. From this pastorate he was dismissed at his own request, Aug. 16, 1796, and in December following was installed pastor at Hanover, N. J.

Rev. Aaron Condit's ministry at Hanover embraced thirty-five and one-half years. During this time the accessions to the membership of the church were six hundred and forty-four on examination, and eighty-one by certificate from other churches. The number of baptisms was nine hundred and eighty-eight. After his pastorate here was closed, on account of age and declining health, he moved to Morristown in 1839, where he remained until his death. Few men are blessed in their lives of usefulness, and in their families, as was Rev. Aaron Condit.

[29.] JOTHAM CONDIT (of Samuel) married, November 17, 1798, Hephzibah Munn (of Benjamin, Orange, N. J.), born May 9, 1778; died of pneumonia March 21, 1859; he died of paralysis August 25, 1862. He became an orphan at the age of twenty months, by the death of his father; in early life he was placed under the care of his brother Joseph, of whom he learned the shoemaker's trade, which he carried on through a long life, spent in Orange, N. J. He was a lieutenant in the war of 1812, and during life maintained a character irreproachable, respected by his acquaintances, and at his death mourned by all who knew him. His wife, "Aunt Heppy," as she was familiarly called by a large circle of acquaintances, was a devout, humble, Christian woman, teaching her children the fear of the Lord as the beginning of wisdom; she was a constant attendant at church, both on the Sabbath and at the weekly prayer-meeting.

[48.] SIMON CONDIT (of Captain Jonathan) married first, Hannah Pierson, born in Orange, Jan. 18, 1763, and died March 15, 1816; married second, Aug. 9, 1817, Elizabeth Douglass (a widow Hamilton). United with the Presbyterian church at Orange in 1804, and was an acting trustee at the building of the present First Presbyterian church. He removed with his family to Delaware county, Ohio, in 1833, where he died Jan. 5, 1839.

Simon Condit was the first of the Condit family to settle in Delaware county, Ohio. His son Jotham, and grandson Edgar Condit, had previously visited that vicinity with a view of purchase and settlement. Gilbert VanDorn, John McCutcheon, Silas Ogden and others had already located there. In 1833 Simon Condit, with his sons, Alvin P. and Jotham, arrived, and Simon immediately purchased of Peter Cockerel eighty acres of land, lying next east from VanDorn's tavern, on which he resided until his death. His widow, Elizabeth, who was his second wife, survived him several years; she died and was buried in Truro township, Franklin county, Ohio, where she had passed her declining years with her daughter, the wife of Jonathan Noe.

These first settlers of Trenton township immediately secured the stated means of grace, and met from Sabbath to Sabbath for divine worship, under the preaching of Rev. Ahab Jenks and Rev. Mr. Washburn. The meetings were held at VanDorn's tavern, which was built in 1829, of brick, and still stands in a good state of preservation. In those early times it was a popular stopping place for emigrants, on the thoroughfare from Zanesville and Newark, Ohio, to Delaware, the county seat of Delaware county. Here, also, the Trenton Presbyterian church was duly organized, and of its members who were Condits at the organization were Simon and his wife, Elizabeth; Electa, daughter of Simon; Alvin P. Condit and his wife, Maria; Mary, wife of Jotham Condit; Asenath, the widow of Smith Condit, and Dorcas, daughter of Smith. Happy beginning of a church, of whose later history it might be said: "The hills were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedars."

[76.] IRA HARRISON CONDIT (of Samuel) was born on the corner of Park and Washington streets, Orange, N. J. His only education was that afforded by the little village school, yet he made the most of limited opportunities and what he lacked in book knowledge he made up in good judgment and hard common sense. He was a live business man in his day and speculated extensively in real estate and was in his early days a well known contractor in Essex County. He always took an active part in politics and was on old line Whig until the organization of the Republican party, with which he united, and heartily endorsed its principles. He never desired office, but served in the Board of Chosen Freeholders from 1871 to 1874. At one time he owned a large part of what is now Llewellyn Park and used it for farming purposes, which occupation he carried on in addition to his general business. In 1855 he sold one hundred acres to Llewellyn S. Haskell, and moved to Roseland in 1858. He watched with pride the transformation of his old farm into the beautiful retreat which it is today and gave to the immortal Haskell many valuable suggestions. Mr. Condit was still at his death a large landholder in West Orange, Livingston Township and Morris County. Among other tracts he owned the original farm of Aaron Kitchell, his wife's grandfather. A few years before his death he co-operated with his daughters and his brother-in-law, Elias Mulford, in the organization of the Roseland Presbyterian church. Sept. 13, 1831, he married Phebe Farrand Mulford, who was born Sept. 8, 1808. She was the daughter of Timothy Mulford, who married Susan Kitchell, daughter of Aaron Kitchell, who was one of the patriot leaders of New Jersey and was a member of Congress from 1799 to 1807, and in that year was elected to the United States Senate and served four years. After more than sixty-eight years of happy companionship, Mrs. Condit died May 26, 1900. He was deeply affected by the death of his wife, but the affectionate care of his children prolonged his life until January 7, 1906, when he passed away.

He graduated from Princeton College in 1795, and for a short time engaged in mercantile life at Orange, but soon afterwards moved to Newark, where he spent a long and useful life. He was a Representative in Congress from 1831 to 1833, a member of the State Constitutional Convention in 1844, and also served as a member of the New Jersey Legislature. He was ever active and energetic in civil life, and for 22 years was president of the Newark Banking Company. He took great interest in the history of the Condit family, and but for his efforts in this direction we should, probably, have remained ignorant of the genealogy of the earlier branches. The records which he left were brief, and embraced only his descent from John; this was enough, however, to enable us to trace all the different branches, aided by the memory of others. The name of Silas Condit is remembered by many of the aged members of the family with profound regard, and few men leave behind them a name so untarnished. He, with his wife, were members of the Presbyterian church at Orange, and afterward transferred their connection to the church at Newark, where he continued to reside until his death, Nov. 29, 1861, aged 83 years.

[112.] REV. ROBERT WOODRUFF CONDIT, D. D. (of Rev. Aaron) was born at Stillwater, N. Y., in 1795. He married, Dec. 21, 1820, Harriette Whittlesey (of Elisha Whittlesey, formerly a lawyer at Danbury, Conn.). She was born May 12, 1794; died Oct. 21, 1859, while on a visit to her native place. He graduated at Princeton College in 1814, and united with his father's church at Hanover, N. J., in 1815. He was elected tutor at Princeton College in 1816, was licensed to preach in 1818, and ordained and installed pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Montgomery, Orange County, N. Y., Dec. 13, 1820. On April 22, 1830, he was dismissed, and on Aug. 23, 1831, was installed pastor of a Presbyterian church at Oswego, N. Y., where he remained during life. His preaching was the gospel, so presented as to be profitable to all. Gifted with a clear voice and an attractive manner, he made a deep impression on every occasion. He was peculiarly fitted for the ministry, as his life and labors have conclusively shown. At his death, which occurred Feb. 11, 1871, another Christian entered the sleep of righteousness. Rev. Dr. Vermilye, of Hartford, Conn., officiated at his funeral. His wife was a woman of marked character and ability, a devoted Christian mother, and one who, in all the walks of life, social and domestic, performed in the fear of God every duty belonging to the wife of a pastor and that of a mother. Her memory is truly blessed.

[115.] HANNAH MARIA CONDIT (of Rev. Aaron) married, Oct., 1822, Rev. William B. Barton, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Woodbridge, N. J. She died of consumption Jan. 20, 1827; he died in April, 1852. Hannah M. became hopefully pious at the age of 12 years. Being lovely in her disposition, she was the favorite of all who knew her and was truly an ornament to her sex. At the close of her funeral and after her many friends had parted with the remains of one they loved so dearly, the venerable father, standing at the head of the coffin, gently raised his hands and said, "I thank God for giving me such a daughter." She had three children, two of whom died before her in infancy, and the other followed the mother three years later.

[116.] REV. JOSEPH DAYTON CONDIT (of Rev. Aaron), born at Hanover, N. J., 1804; married, Sept. 11, 1830, Mary Gardner Miller, of East Hampton, L. I. He died Sept. 22, 1847. Mr. Condit united with the church at Hanover, N. J., in 1821, at the age of 17. At this time he looked forward with desire to the Christian ministry, and, after entering it, he magnified his office and regarded it as the highest earthly honor and privilege to preach the unsearchable riches of Christ. He entered Princeton College in Sept., 1826, and graduated with the highest honors of his class in 1829. He was licensed to preach at Sag Harbor, L. I., Aug. 29 of the same year, and was installed pastor of the Presbyterian Church at East Hampton Sept. 1, 1830, where he remained nearly five years, when he was compelled to resign his charge because of declining health. He preached his farewell sermon June 14, 1835. Subsequently he removed to South Hadley, Mass., where he was afterward installed pastor over the church, and where he faithfully labored for twelve years. Mr. and Mrs. Condit were active colleagues with Miss Mary Lyon in the organization and establishment of the Mt. Holyoke Female Seminary. This institution was regarded as part of his ministerial charge, and as from year to year the Spirit was poured out upon it, he labored for its good, as many of its former pupils can testify. He was president of the board of trustees, and from year to year delivered the diplomas and parting addresses to its graduates. Always of delicate constitution, he did not anticipate long life. Early in 1847 he was obliged to relinquish his active duties, and then came a pause in his usefulness, which was terminated by death in the following September. They had no children.

[117.] REV. JOHN HOWELL CONDIT (of Rev. Aaron), born at Hanover, N. J., 1806; married, Sept. 30, 1835, Louisa Cutter, daughter of William W. Cutter, of Woodbridge, N. J. She was born Jan. 24, 1808, and died Aug. 8, 1877, at Ashland, Ky. He graduated from Princeton College in 1831, and from the Seminary in 1835. A few days after their marriage they started for the West. Descending the Ohio River, Saturday evening found them at Clinton Furnace Landing. Here they stopped over the Sabbath at the house of a Presbyterian elder, to whom they had a letter of introduction from Dr. Alexander. The nearest church, Bethesda, now called Ashland, Ky., being vacant, Mr. Condit preached for them on the Sabbath, and was invited to remain and become their pastor. This was in October, 1835. He remained at Bethesda until May, 1840, when he accepted a call to the Presbyterian Church in Washington, Ky., where he remained and faithfully labored for twenty-eight years. A pastor wholly devoted to his work, he was greatly beloved by his own church and by all in the surrounding regions. His wife shared with him all the trials, joys and sorrows of an arduous and self-denying life. By reason of declining health and the disturbances that arose in consequence of the Civil War, he resigned his charge in June, 1868, and returned to Ashland, where his son had for several years been settled over the old Bethesda Church. There he remained until God called him to his reward, which was on the first of August, 1869. His many friends and former parishioners united in testifying to his worth and their love for him by erecting a monument to his memory in Ashland Cemetery.

She died Jan. 7, 1835. He married second, May 5, 1836, Sarah S. Woodhull, his deceased wife's sister, born Jan. 29, 1815; died June 15, 1879. Mr. Condit united with the Presbyterian Church at Woodbridge, N. J., in 1825; graduated from Princeton College in 1827, and from Princeton Seminary in 1830 or 1831. In July, 1831, he was ordained pastor by a Congregational council at Long Meadow, Mass., where he remained until September, 1835; was professor of rhetoric at Amherst College from 1835 till May, 1838; he became the pastor of a Congregational church at Portland, Me., June, 1838, from which he was dismissed in 1845. In December, 1845, he was settled as pastor over the Second Presbyterian Church at Newark, N. J., where he remained till April, 1850. The following year he became a professor at Lane Theological Seminary, Ohio, and occupied this chair until June, 1854. In 1855 he entered a like position at Auburn Theological Seminary, New York, which he resigned at the close of his labors in 1871. Mr. Condit received his degree of D. D. from Princeton College in June, 1847. He died Jan. 1, 1876.

shoemaker's trade with his father. Soon after his marriage he built the house which he occupied until his death. He always led a quiet, unobtrusive life, and was deeply interested in local and general affairs. He was a man of steady habits, regular in his attendance on the means of grace on the Sabbath, and his life conveys a lesson to the present generation of the value of sterling integrity and abiding trust in God's providences. He died Sept. 6, 1890.

In early life he easily acquired the use of tools, and, while in New Jersey, was successfully engaged as a cooper, machinist and carpenter. In the autumn of 1843 he moved with his family to Jersey, Licking County, Ohio, where he became an undertaker, but was more prominently engaged in the manufacture of carriages and wagons. He was succeeded in his business by three sons in the extensive undertaking and carriage trade now carried on at Jersey under the firm name of Harrison & Brothers. Mr. Harrison was, during life, active in all the affairs of civil life and of the church. Martha resided with her son Richard at Jersey, Ohio, a happy, cheerful octogenarian. She was a constant attendant at the Jersey Presbyterian Church, with which she and her husband connected themselves upon their arrival there. She died March 9, 1888.

[126.] JOTHAM HALSEY CONDIT (of Jotham), born Jan. 19, 1822; married, Feb. 14, 1847, Abby Ann Condit (of SaCheveral [94], Orange), born Feb. 22, 1826; died April 22, 1882. She was a dearly beloved wife and mother, a devout and humble Christian, and possessed of great energy and will power. For many years she successfully resisted the inroads of disease and bodily infirmities that few are called upon to endure. In 1847 Mr. Condit started in the building business in the Oranges, which he carried on successfully until 1873, when he retired and accepted the office of township collector, which position he held for three years. He served as a member of the Town Committee for several years, and was also a member of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Essex County. He was always interested in religious work, serving as an elder in the Brick Presbyterian Church for eleven years, and later in the same capacity in the (Dutch) Reformed Church from the time of its organization in 1875 until his death. He was interested in the study of the family history, and this interest was increased by his attendance at reunions of the Condits in Ohio. In 1880 Mr. Condit and his nephew, Eben Condit, of Jersey, Ohio, began to collect data for a genealogical record of the family. As there had been no previous effort in this direction, it was necessary to examine records of deeds, wills and churches, and required a very extensive correspondence and much travel. The time devoted to this work was cheerfully given and always referred to with great satisfaction. The results of their work were compiled and published by him in 1885. This volume may be found in many public and private libraries, and is regarded as a valuable family record.

He was active in the organization of the Condit Family Association, and, as Historian, contributed much information of value to the records. His death occurred Aug. 7, 1909, at his residence in East Orange.

[131.] REV. JOHN CONDIT (of Samuel), born at Chatham, Morris County, N. J., 1818; married Eliza Lavinia Baldwin, born 1820. He studied for the ministry, and was ordained as a missionary by a council of ministers at Newark, N. J., Nov. 17, 1853. On the 30th of the same month, in company with Rev. George Thompson, Messrs. Pierce and Herrick, with their wives and a Miss Smith, he sailed for Africa. They arrived at Freetown, Africa, on the 4th of January, 1854, and after a brief stay they embarked for Good Hope, where they arrived January 13. After a little more than two months of missionary labor at Good Hope, in which he took great delight, he was stricken down with fever and died, after a short illness, at the Good Hope Missionary Station, on April 23, 1854. Although his stay was short, yet many heard from his lips the heavenly news of salvation for the first time, and the harvest of the seeds he scattered eternity will measure. His widow married second, James Cole, and died May 20, 1874.

[150.] ASENATH CONDIT (of Japhia) married Joseph S. Condit [204] (of Simon).

[152.] SILAS D. CONDIT (of Japhia) was born in Orange in 1796. At the age of 18 he enlisted in the War of 1812 for six months, and received an honorable discharge. He was possessed of more than ordinary shrewdness for making money, and when he entered the army he took with him into camp a small stock of notions and established a kind of sutler's trade. Beginning with only seven dollars and renewing his stock from time to time, at the expiration of his term of service he had realized one hundred dollars. He married Phebe Pierson (of Enos) Jan. 7, 1817; born Aug. 21, 1798; died April 11, 1890. He bought a farm in Orange, where he lived until 1839, when he moved to Gallia County, Ohio. Here he located on eighty acres of heavily-timbered land which he had procured by the sale of his farm in New Jersey. On the place he erected a log house, which he occupied eleven years. Then he removed to Albany, Athens County, Ohio, for the purpose of providing his family with better educational advantages. In 1858 he removed to Jasper County, Iowa, where he purchased a farm, on which he resided until his death, which occurred Feb. 23, 1860. His numerous descendants, who are settled in that locality, inherit the temperate habits, sturdy integrity and industry which were characteristic of Silas, honored and useful members of the Condit family and worthy the name they bear.

[201.] ISAAC CONDIT (of Isaac) married, Oct. 5, 1822, Jane R. Dobbins, of Caldwell, N. J.; born March 16, 1802; died Jan. 3, 1878. He died May 10, 1878, by a railroad accident, which occurred near his residence at Pataskala, Ohio. In the spring of 1835 he moved to Harrison Township, Licking County, Ohio, with five children, where he purchased one hundred acres of unimproved land, and, after erecting a cabin, began pioneer life in the woods, and remained in this locality during life. Isaac and his wife, with fourteen others, were the organizing members of the South Fork Presbyterian Church, in which he was an elder until 1852, when a church was formed nearer his home at Kirkersville. He was made an elder in the new organization, and remained such until his death. During all these years of his residence in Ohio he was an active worker in the Sunday School and an earnest advocate of the cause of temperance.

[204.] JOSEPH SMITH CONDIT (of Simon) married, July 4, 1810, Asenath Condit [150] (of Japhia), who died Jan. 27, 1875, at Trenton, Delaware County, Ohio. He died at the same place Aug. 31, 1835. She united with the Presbyterian Church at Orange in 1825, and transferred her relations to the Presbyterian Church in Ohio in 1835, of which church she remained a worthy member until her death. Joseph Smith moved to Ohio with his family in 1835. He manifested traits of character which were very promising to his neighbors in the locality in which he settled, and his sudden death soon after his arrival was a lamentable occurrence to the little colony. He was a professor of religion, and publicly identified himself with the Trenton church one week before his death.

[207.] JOTHAM CONDIT (of Simon, of Captain Jonathan Condit) was born in Essex County, N. J., in 1794. He married first, in 1820, Mary Condit [58] (of Joel); she died in 1823. He married second, Jan. 14, 1824, Mary Mulford, widow of Jesse Pierson, born Oct. 3, 1796; died April 21, 1885. He was one of the early residents of Trenton Township, Delaware County, Ohio, whose virtue, industry and Christian character left their imprint on the society of that locality, now noted for the independent integrity of its inhabitants. He emigrated to Ohio from New Jersey in 1835 with his family. Before his emigration he carried on the business of a tanner and currier, his partner in that occupation being Alvin P. Condit, a younger brother. He had been successful in his native State, and on his arrival in Ohio entered a large tract of land and occupied, with his family, a cabin previously erected on his purchase. "Grit" was the prevailing element of character displayed by the early settlers of Trenton Township, and by it Jotham added to his farm, from time to time, until it embraced fifteen hundred acres. He erected a sawmill near his home, which he operated thirty years, and afterwards, until his death, was extensively engaged in raising cattle and sheep. He embraced religion while yet in New Jersey, and after his removal to Ohio was a useful member of the Trenton church. He died of pneumonia Feb. 3, 1875, aged 81 years.

[208.] REBECCA CONDIT (of Simon) married, Feb. 24, 1819, Ira Condit [56] (of Joel). She died Dec. 12, 1873. He died Dec. 18, 1873.

[209.] ALVIN P. CONDIT (of Simon), and grandson of Captain Jonathan Condit, was born in 1801 in Essex County, N. J. Upon attaining his majority he engaged in the business of tanning and the manufacture of shoes, associated with his brother, Jotham Condit. They were very successful and continued the business until 1832. On Dec. 23, 1823, Alvin was married to Maria Jacobus, of Verona, who was born Dec. 4, 1802. In 1833 Alvin moved with his family to Delaware County, Ohio, where he had purchased four hundred acres of land in Trenton Township. There he began frontier life, and erected a sawmill, which he and his boys operated for a number of years. His cabin, it is said, was the first one raised in that country without the "jug of whisky" so common on such occasions. In 1852 he made a prospecting tour to Iowa at the earnest request of his son Robert. They journeyed by carriage and, upon arriving at what is now Langworthy, Iowa, they drew up at a hotel and the elder Condit, taking a survey of the beautiful expanse of prairie, remarked, "I will take all the land I can get like this, that I can pay for, at a dollar and a quarter an acre." The son, whose zeal and interest in the prospect had materially cooled, was surprised at the exclamation of his father; but the far-reaching and instantaneous grasp of mind characteristic of Alvin knew no backward movement. Calculations of commercial development, based upon probable or possible facilities for the transportation of the enormous productions of these lands—calculations made with a view of purchase and settlement—required a mind of no mean standard. The mental acquisitions of Alvin enabled him to correctly estimate the future value of these prairie lands, of what was then called the "Far West." The result of his determination is shown in the fertile farms, growing villages and thrifty character of this vicinity, to which he soon after removed. Calling upon Joseph Secrest, one of the early pioneers of that country, who had charge of the sale of government lands, he selected a section of land and would not retire for the night until the necessary papers were executed. Subsequently he traded the horses and carriage used on their journey from Ohio with a Mr. Fisher for another farm. The father and son started next day for Dubuque, on their way home, on a wagon heavily loaded with flour and drawn by four horses. In 1854 Robert Condit, the son, with his brother-in-law, Oliver Doyle, settled in this section, and in 1856 Alvin Condit, with his family, followed. Here they began their second experience in pioneer life. Alvin proposed to his sons, soon after he had located, that if they would raise five hundred dollars among themselves he would add to it enough to build a Congregational church. The building was soon erected, the site for the house and also ground for a cemetery being donated by the son Robert. The first member of the family to occupy this home of the dead was the honored father, Alvin P. Condit, who died Feb. 1, 1883. Twenty days after, his wife Maria was buried by his side, ending an eventful career of eighty-one years. She united with the Presbyterian Church at Caldwell, N. J., at the age of 16. Such was the Christian influence and earnest devotion brought with her into these new relations in life that her husband was soon led into the church, and his fifty-nine years of active church work are traceable to the purity of life and Christian worth of the then young wife. Her health gave way in middle life, and for several years before her death she was confined almost constantly to her bed-chamber. She died Feb. 21, 1883.

[228.] SILAS WHITEHEAD CONDIT (of Jephtha) was born in Newark, N. J., July 17, 1819. His father, Jephtha, was a farmer and had served as a private in the Revolutionary War. Silas was a shoemaker by trade. In early life he went to Ohio, and settled in Sunbury, where his first child was born. In the spring of 1847 he, with other emigrants, went West and founded the town of Kainsville, now Council Bluffs, on the Missouri River, where he built the third house in the place. In the spring of 1848 he placed his family and a few household goods in a wagon drawn by oxen and started north to the valley at the junction of the Missouri and Little Sioux Rivers. There were no roads or bridges, and rivers were crossed by fording or on rafts. He settled near what is now Little Sioux, Iowa, and built a log house covered with bark from cottonwood trees. There were no windows and the door was of split planks put together with wooden pins. The fireplace was built of sod. For some time his only neighbors were Indians, as this region was the hunting ground of several tribes. They were often in danger from the Indians, but while a family only seven miles away were killed and their house burned, they were not injured. The Indians called him "Tunger-maw-he," meaning Big Knife. The clothing of the family was made by his wife from skins which he tanned. Their provisions were such as they could raise, shoot, or catch in the streams. He had a corn mill, which was operated by a crank turned by hand. This was fastened to a tree, the hopper holding about a peck of shelled corn. It was called Condit's Mill by their few white neighbors, who came from miles around with their shelled corn to grind their grist. He was appointed the first postmaster in Harrison County, Iowa, at Little Sioux. He was also the first justice of the peace, and as such performed the first marriage ceremony in the county. On this occasion he was dressed in a new suit of buckskin made by his wife. He killed the deer and tanned the hides. The thread was dried sinews from the deer's spine. He would work his farm, sell enough of his produce to pay his expenses and go out and preach the gospel until his money was gone, come back for another supply and go out again. He died Oct. 27, 1879, in Little Sioux, Iowa, a strong believer in Christ and his church. He married, Feb. 3, 1842, Julia N. Parker, born in Maine Feb. 3, 1821. She died Jan. 17, 1844. He married second, Sept. 27, 1844, Sarah P. Hiscock, born in Maine, Dec. 18, 1824. She died May 13, 1867. He married third, Sept. 20, 1870, Cordelia (Waldo) Eldridge, born Sept. 17, 1840; died May 3, 1909.

[445.] MARY TUCKER CONDIT (of Rev. Robert W.) married, April 18, 1853, William Porter Pierson, born at Leroy, Genesee County, N. Y., Dec. 8, 1811. He was a descendant of Rev. Abraham Pierson, who, with his church colony, founded the city of Newark. His line of descent is, first, Abraham Pierson, founder of Newark; second, Abraham Pierson, rector, first president of Yale College; third, Abraham Pierson, worshipful colonial magistrate of Connecticut; fourth, Samuel Pierson; fifth, Samuel Pierson; sixth, Philo Pierson; seventh, William Porter Pierson. He graduated at Vermont University, Burlington, in 1839. After his marriage he settled at Onarga, Ill., in 1854. A large portion of the town of Onarga was built by Mr. Pierson, who, having retired from business, resided with his wife at their beautiful home on the outskirts of the town. Mrs. Pierson was sociable and entertaining and her home was a welcome retreat for all who visited there. They had no children, but for many years adopted girls, who in their life exemplified the teachings of a faithful and Christian foster mother. By her kind assistance we were able to secure the history of the descent of the five sons of Rev. Aaron Condit, of Hanover, N. J. She died Dec. 30, 1890. He died June 10, 1909.

Chauncey and Julia W. Eddy, formerly of Penn Yan, N. Y. He graduated at Williams College in 1845, from the Union Theological Seminary in 1850, and was ordained by the Presbytery of Newark, N. J., in 1851. He was married the same year, and sailed for Syria Nov. 29, 1851. They arrived at Beirut Feb. 1, 1852, and were stationed at Aleppo until 1856, at Sidon from 1857 to 1878, and at Beirut from 1878 to the time of his death. Dr. Eddy was a faithful and successful worker in the Syrian Mission, and Mrs. Eddy was in full sympathy with her husband in his years of mission life, and, as far as her health permitted, aided him by the faithful discharge of home duties, and also in the more active labors incident to her position. Under her fostering care, with the co-operation of faithful Christian teachers, the Sidon Female Seminary was established and carried forward until their removal to Beirut, when her daughter, Harriette M., succeeded to her labors at Sidon. Mrs. Eddy was a devoted mother, teaching and training her children from their earliest infancy, they having been deprived of all other educational advantages. She died April 19, 1904.

[495.] EDWARD IRVING CONDIT (of Jotham H.) married, March 20, 1872, Charlotte Robinson (of John), born Aug. 19, 1850. He was educated in the public schools, with one year in a private school in Orange. In 1864-5 he was assistant to A. Morris Condit in the postoffice in Orange, when that office served all the Oranges except South Orange. He learned the carpenter's trade, and in 1873 succeeded his father in business in East Orange, and conducted the business for thirty years. Upon the organization of the First Reformed Church in 1875 he was elected a deacon and served for forty years as deacon and elder. He is a charter member of the first fire company in East Orange, and, although retired from active service, he has continued as an officer in the Exempt Association of the department and is a life member of the State Associations. In 1896 he was elected to the Township Committee of East Orange and served eight years in the committee and City Council, during which time many matters of lasting interest to the city were consummated. In 1904 he was appointed inspector of buildings and served in that office for six years. From his knowledge and experience he prepared the ordinances which placed the department in an advanced position in matters of construction and safety. In 1906 he was elected a member of the Executive Committee of the Condit Family Association; in 1910, vice-president, and in 1912, secretary and treasurer. In 1913 the Executive Committee desired him to undertake the revision of the family record for the Association. An earnest desire to complete the work so well begun by his father has been the incentive to a careful and painstaking effort to present the family with as complete a record as could be secured. He has always resided in East Orange.

[668.] EDGAR M. CONDIT (of Joseph Smith) married, July 15, 1835, Jane Mulford, born in Morris County, N. J., Oct. 31, 1814. At the age of 15 he began learning the carpenter's trade with his father in Essex County, N. J. Two years later, in 1829 or 1830, he made the journey to Delaware County with his uncle, Jotham Condit, walking the entire distance. The return trip was accomplished in fourteen days. Having finished his trade, he returned to Ohio in 1832, and subsequently spent three years working at the carpenter business in Delaware County, during which time his grandfather, Simon Condit; his father, Smith Condit, with his brothers came from New Jersey with their families and settled there. Edgar had, for his father, entered two hundred and forty acres of land from the government, at the land office located at Chillicothe, Ohio, eighty acres of which were given to Edgar. The price was one dollar and a quarter per acre. By industry and economy he accumulated sufficient to purchase one hundred and sixty acres adjoining that received from his father, on which he erected a cabin, which was occupied by his father's family on their arrival from New Jersey. Early in the summer of 1835, after his father had become settled, Edgar returned to New Jersey, where he was married in July of that year to Jane Mulford, with whom he immediately set out for Ohio. Arriving at his grandfather's home, after a tedious journey by the old-time public conveyances, he was informed that the funeral of his father was then being held in the cabin which Edgar had so lately built. This unexpected reception which the young couple experienced, with the additional responsibilities laid upon Edgar by the death of his father, doubtless resulted in the development of the manly and Christian character so sturdily maintained by him in after years. J. Smith Condit, his father, had but one week previous publicly identified himself with the little band of worshipers who afterward became duly organized into a church. His death threw the little colony into consternation and discouragement.

Edgar, with his wife, immediately occupied the cabin with his father's family, where all remained until a house could be built. Here began their pioneer life, which was only disturbed by the death of the husband forty-six years later. Edgar followed his trade continuously for fifteen years, and the proofs of his ability and taste are still preserved in Trenton Township in the neat and commodious residences of many of its inhabitants. His wages during the greater portion of this time was one dollar per day, and he hired others at fifty cents per day to assist him in clearing his farm. They had no children of their own, but have brought up four others, whom they trained in the habits of usefulness and supplied with the comforts of life. In 1856, upon the removal of Alvin P. Condit to Iowa, Edgar purchased two hundred acres of his farm, which, with that he already owned and the additions made since, composed the aggregate of six hundred acres which he occupied at his death. Never in public life, his position in home and local affairs was an enviable one. During nearly the whole time of his residence in Delaware County he was constantly employed in the settlement of estates, and in charge of funds as guardian. Loved and respected by all, he had the confidence of those who knew him. The Trenton Church, of which he was a member for forty-four years, and for twenty-five years an efficient elder, was formally organized at the Van Dorn tavern in 1836, and Edgar and his wife became its members in 1837. He was always at church, and during his last sickness, which was the only illness of his life, he often spoke of being lonesome on the Sabbath because of his inability to attend the services at God's house. His pastor, Rev. Robert Wylie, says of him, "His counsels were always marked with wisdom; his dying testimony was that Christ is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother." He died Nov. 20, 1881. His widow died Oct. 18, 1907.

[692.] WHITFIELD SMITH CONDIT (of Jotham) was born in Essex County, N. J., Dec. 22, 1834; married, April 22, 1856, Philena Easterday (of John), born in Mt. Liberty, Ohio, Sept. 13, 1837. His parents moved to Ohio when he was but six months of age and settled in Trenton Township, Delaware County, which was at that time an almost unbroken forest. His youth was spent in helping his father clear the land for cultivation. His education was limited to the common school, but was sufficient to enable him to meet the problems which came up in his active life as a farmer and in the offices to which he was elected by the voters of the township. He served as treasurer of Trenton Township for twenty-one consecutive years. His integrity and honesty was unquestionable and he enjoyed the confidence and respect of the people of the community in which he spent his life. As the reward of honest and faithful labor he accumulated an estate of 800 acres. He was blessed with good health, and with the help of his faithful and efficient wife enjoyed the labor and care of his farm and of his family. In early life he united with the Trenton Presbyterian Church, and later transferred his membership to the Trenton Christian Church, to which he remained a devoted member until God called him to the home prepared for His faithful servants. His sickness was of short duration. He died March 5, 1914. After nearly fifty-eight years of happy companionship, his devoted wife is left with her children and grandchildren.

[703.] EDGAR MANTELBERT CONDIT (of Alvin P.) was born in Condit, Ohio, Jan. 24, 1840. His father was a farmer and also operated a sawmill. The first sixteen years of Edgar's life were spent upon this farm, doing his share of the work and gaining strength and experience for his long and useful life. In 1856 his father moved from Ohio to Iowa. In a two-horse covered wagon he drove a team on the long journey of 500 miles. In the new home the farm life was resumed, with the district school as the only means of education. When he was 19 his father granted his desire for a college education and he entered Oberlin College. Before completing his course the Civil War broke out, and he enlisted in the army in 1861, serving through the whole war and being discharged in September, 1865. On Feb. 8, 1866, he was married to Eliza A. Bell, daughter of Hon. James A. Bell, born in Seville, Ohio, May 23, 1842. After three years of farming he entered business life as Western manager for an Eastern fire insurance company, with headquarters in Chicago. He also included city real estate with his insurance interests. He was successful in his business and retired in 1902. Without neglecting his business, and always accompanied by his wife, he made trips into Alaska, California, Mexico and New England, and spent his winters in Florida, where he had a winter home. After retiring from business he and his wife traveled leisurely for two years over every country in Europe, much of Asia and part of Africa. After their return he published a book of 625 pages on his observations and experiences of the trip ("Two Years in Three Continents") which is a very interesting and instructive record. In 1905 he went to Florida to make his home on the Atlantic Coast on account of the climate. His residence is in Daytona, Fla., where he is a member and secretary of the Board of Public Works. They have no children.

[704.] ALBERT P. CONDIT (of Alvin P.) married, Dec. 31, 1871, Kate O. Rice, born April 13, 1846, in Iowa. They moved from Anamosa, Iowa, to California. Their residence is in Pomona, California.

[758.] PARKER SMITH CONDIT (of Silas W. and Julia N. Condit) was born in Sunbury, Ohio, May 3, 1843. He was a carpenter and contractor in Little Sioux, Iowa. Politically he was a Democrat until 1902, when he joined the Socialist party, and still votes with them. Before he was 5 years old his father moved to Iowa, where the city of Little Sioux is now located. As they had but few white neighbors, his playmates were mostly Indian children. His clothes were made by his mother, and consisted of buckskin shirt and trousers, buffalo coat and moccasins and coon-skin cap. The first wheat flour he remembers seeing was when he was 7 or 8 years old, when his father brought a few pounds from Kainsville. They had five white neighboring families, who were invited to dine with them. His mother made biscuits with the flour and they thought it a grand feast. He had only seven or eight terms of schooling. His first teacher was his cousin, Alex. T. Crane, in Little Sioux, in the winter of 1857. The school house was built of logs, chinked with mud. He built the first frame house for Alex. T. Crane, in 1869, on his farm near Little Sioux. This house had the first pine shingles used in that section. The other lumber used in the house was cottonwood. He cut and hauled the logs to his mill, sawed and kiln-dried the lumber and dressed it by hand. This house is still standing, with the original roof, and is used as a granary. He had the first charter for a ferry across the Missouri River at the mouth of the Little Sioux, and built a flat boat with a horse power for the first ferry. Later he bought a small steamboat, which was afterwards used to transport lumber to Omaha. He was deputy postmaster at Little Sioux for a few years. [1316.] EMMONS NELSON CONDIT (of Ezra F.) was born May 4, 1852, in Newark, N. J., where he spent the early years of his life. He was fond of music and had great talent as a singer. When a young man he was soloist in the Methodist Episcopal Church in Newark, of which he was a member. Mr. Condit came of "old Methodist stock," and was a zealous Christian and an earnest advocate of temperance. On Jan. 28, 1872, he married Harriet E. Squier, of Madison, N. J., born May 10, 1850. After his marriage they resided in the "Old Condit Homestead" of his grandfather, still standing, over one hundred years old, between the first and second mountains in Verona, N. J. Here he lived with his wife and children, and devoted his life to his family and home. Mr. Condit was a master mechanic and was well known in all the suburban towns. For two years before her death Mrs. Condit was a patient sufferer from a malignant sickness, from which she died July 16, 1902. Although he loved his children dearly, his deep devotion to his wife was stronger, and after nine months of deep sorrow he suddenly and quietly passed away, April 8, 1903, to the great sorrow of those who were left.

[1504.] ORLANDO EMMONS CONDIT, son of Albert Condit and Rachel C. Williams, was born in the mountain section of West Orange, March 20, 1853. He came of Revolutionary stock, his great-great-grandfather, Jonathan Condit, being a captain in one of the regiments in the War for Independence. Mr. Condit married, Oct. 16, 1878, Elizabeth R. Mulford (of Timothy W., East Orange), who was born Dec. 25, 1854, and died April 26, 1913. One never met Mrs. Condit without being impressed by her strong, true character, her sweetness of temper and Christian fortitude, her cheery, sunny disposition, her faithfulness to duty and her intellectual strength. A most gracious and loving simplicity was hers; devoted to home and family she yet found time to be greatly inter-interested in both church and club work. Their children, Mrs. Helen L. Hood, Albert E. Condit and T. Mulford Condit, are all residents of East Orange. Mr. Condit, with his brother, William E. Condit, succeeded his father in the wholesale beef business in East Orange, which they carried on successfully for many years. He was also a founder and director in the East Orange National Bank and continued his directorship when it was changed to the Essex County Trust Company. He was a member of the New England Society, a charter member of the Orange Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, and its first treasurer. He was greatly interested in the Condit Family Association, one of the Executive Committee from its organization, and an earnest supporter of the revision work. For many years Mr. Condit was a member of Brick Presbyterian Church, East Orange, and served the church faithfully as trustee and elder, holding the latter office at the time of his death. In his active life, both domestic and public, Mr. Condit was emphatically a Christian; lovable, genial and happy in personal life, so that those who knew him felt drawn to him and were ready to place confidence in him. They observed his sterling qualities as a man of affairs and a church officer, and his willingness always to be helpful to others, his loving sincerity and generosity in all human relations and his fidelity to known duty. His death occurred Oct. 29, 1915, at his home in East Orange.

Part II

DESCENT OF PETER CONDIT

(OF PETER) MORRISTOWN, N. J.

SECOND GRANDSON OF JOHN, THE ANCESTOR

PETER CONDIT was born at Newark, N. J., in 1698 or 1699. He married Phebe Dodd, who was born in 1703, and who died July 26, 1768, aged 65 years. He died July 11 of the same year, at the age of 69.

Peter, early in life, became a resident of Morristown, N. J., where he acquired property, and where some, if not all, of his children were born. At the formation of the First Presbyterian Church in Morristown, in 1741, he and his wife were among its first communicants, and continued to be steadfast supporters of the organization until their death. Some of the descendants of Peter filled honorable places in the early political history of the country, while others attained to positions of eminence in the professions.

His will, on file in Trenton, N. J., is dated February 1, 1767, and was proved August 25, 1768. It names his wife, Phebe, and his children, Joseph, Nathaniel, Ebenezer, Silas and Peter. The executors named were his wife, and sons Joseph and Silas. The witnesses were Benoni Hathaway, Jedediah Mills and Thaddeus Dodd. Very nearly all the members of this branch of the family have left their ancestral homes in Morris County and have settled in the West and South.

The descendants of Peter originally spelled their name "Condict," and it is so recorded in the Morristown records. When the 1885 record was compiled, however, so many of the family had adopted the generally accepted form that, for the sake of uniformity, the spelling "Condit" was used throughout. In this revision those who are known to adhere to the former spelling have been indicated by (Condict) placed after the family name.

He became a member of the Morristown Church Sept. 2, 1764. He was made a member of the board of trustees of that church Oct. 19, 1772, and remained such for many years, acting as clerk and president of that body. He was a member of the State Council of New Jersey from its organization in 1776 till 1780. In 1781 he was elected a member of the Continental Congress, and continued as such until 1784. From 1791 to 1800 (excepting the years 1795 and 1799) he was again a member of the New Jersey Legislature, and was speaker of the House during the years 1792, 1793, 1794 and 1797. He was a large landholder in Morristown and vicinity, his farm embracing several hundred acres. He was a useful man and a Christian citizen.

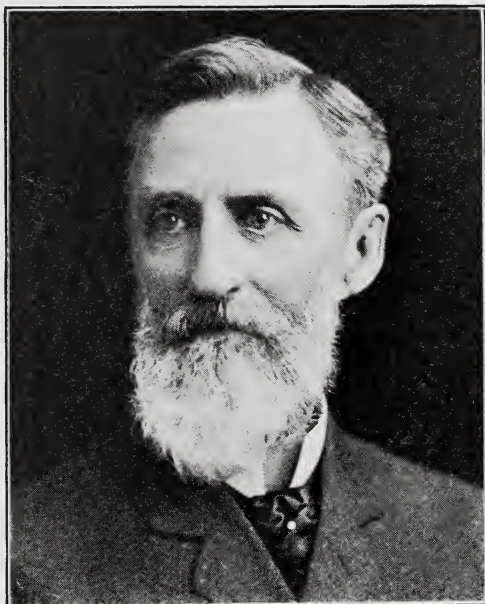

*Abigail Alden Byram was the mother of the first wife of Col. Ebenezer Condit, the second wife of Silas Condit, and the wife of Peter Condit; she was a great-granddaughter of John Alden, of "May Flower" memory. It is a singular coincidence that these three brothers, Ebenezer, Silas and Peter, married three sisters, Huldah, Abigail and Annie, daughters of Ebenezer Byram.

SILAS CONDUCT HYNDSHAW (of Rev. James Bailey and Abigail Cutler Hyndshaw) was born in New Providence, N. J., Aug. 14, 1831. Much of his boyhood was spent with his grandparents, Colonel Joseph and Elizabeth Cook Cutler, at the old homestead in Morristown, N. J. In his young manhood he learned the jeweler's trade and when about the age of 25 he went to Michigan, where he spent two years, and from there went to Illinois and located in the town of Henry. In 1858 he married Elizabeth, daughter of Christopher and Rachel Wiltsee Walker, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Hyndshaw had two children, Sophia Walker, who married Drayton Wilson Bushnell, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, Dec. 24, 1878, and Frank Morton, who married Dolie Whitlock, of Omaha, Neb., Jan. 21, 1891; they have two sons, Silas C., born Aug. 6, 1892, and Rowland W., born Jan. 15, 1897. For the twenty years that Mr. Hyndshaw made his home in Henry, he was one of the successful men of the place. At the end of that time he removed to Chicago with his family, and after his children were married lived there until 1905. He and his wife then went to Council Bluffs and made their home with their daughter and her husband. He lived until Jan. 20, 1910. His wife survived until Sept. 20, 1915. As a youth Timothy Condit is said to have been very active and robust. He received a common school education, and early became an apprentice to the trade of a tanner and shoemaker. In 1793 he emigrated to Ohio with a party of teamsters in the employ of Judge John Cleve Symmes, the noted pioneer of Southwestern Ohio. One hundred and sixty acres of land was conveyed by Symmes to Timothy Condit as compensation for services rendered by him on the trip from New Jersey. Timothy soon afterwards sold this land for a nominal sum and removed to Jefferson County, Ky.* He remained in Jefferson County until 1808, when he removed to Ohio County, Ky., where he bought a farm of two hundred and sixty acres, on which he established a tannery and shoe shop. He was engaged in this business until old age and infirmity obliged him to desist. As a pioneer he, with his wife and their young family, endured all the privations incident to a frontier life, spending much of the time of their early married life in block houses or semi-military posts, as a protection from the Indians, who were numerous in those early years of the history of this section. The religious life of Timothy was one of usefulness. His early training was in the Presbyterian Church. When he became settled in Kentucky he united with the Methodist Church, of which he was an active and honored member until death.

[38.] SILAS CONDICT, of Morristown, N. J., son of Colonel Ebenezer Condict and Huldah Byram, was born Aug. 10, 1766. His mother was a direct descendant of John Alden, who came to America in the Mayflower in 1620. He was married, March 30, 1790, to Charlotte Ford, daughter of Jonathan Ford, who carried on an extensive iron business in Morris County, N. J., during the latter part of the eighteenth century. She was a great-granddaughter of Rev. Jonathan Dickinson, one of the founders and first president of Princeton College. She was born Dec. 6, 1767. In 1809 she established one of the first Sunday Schools in New Jersey. This school was started in her home in Littleton, Morris County. She was an earnest Christian and believed sincerely in the power of prayer. Silas was a nephew of Silas Condict, who was a member of the Continental Congress. The subject of this sketch was commonly called Silas Condict, Jr. His father, Colonel Ebenezer, died in the service of his country during the War of the Revolution. When Silas, Jr., was 11 years old he was reared by his uncle, Silas Condict, Sr., and on the death of his uncle he inherited a considerable part of his large estate. Silas Condict, Jr., held many prominent public positions, among them the office of judge of the County Court of Morris County, which he held for many years. He was one of the three principal owners of the State Bank at Morristown. He took an interest in the Morris Canal and the Morris and Essex Railroad when they were built nearly one hundred years ago, during the latter part of his life, and was one of the most prominent men in Morris County. He was a large property owner and large blocks of his lands are still owned by his descendants. He died at the age of 82, on Feb. 6, 1848, at the homestead (now owned by the estate of Mrs. Julia Sherman, a granddaughter), located on Morris Plains. He was active in the Presbyterian Church and his body lies buried in the Presbyterian Graveyard at Morristown. His wife, Charlotte Ford Condict, died March 6, 1850, in the 83rd year of her age.

[49.] EDWARD CONDIT (Condict) (of Peter) was born in Morristown, N. J., Nov. 15, 1769. He married Mary Pruden, of Morristown, born Nov. 2, 1772; died March 31, 1822. He married second, Jane Carmichael (widow of David); born 1781, and died Jan. 8, 1856. He died Dec.

1, 1855. Edward spent his whole life in Morristown. He was a man of affairs and held many offices of public trust. For sixty years he was a devoted member of the First Presbyterian Church, which his grandfather had helped to found. At the age of 30 he was appointed by the Council of Proprietors of East New Jersey a deputy surveyor, and as such assisted in laying out Broad street, Newark. He served as a member of the State Committee on Surveying almost all of his life. He was one of the organizers of the State Bank and its first vice-president, and appears as one of the incorporators of a company chartered on March 3, 1806, to build a railroad from Morristown to Phillipsburg, passing through the "celebrated springs of Hackettstown." For many years he acted as county clerk of Morris, and as one of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas. The appellation of "Judge" remained with him during the rest of his life. He was elected clerk of the Board of Chosen Freeholders and served upwards of thirty years. He was also a member of the New Jersey State Legislature from 1828 to 1830. He died Dec. 1, 1855, in Morristown.

He married second, Dec. 20, 1824, Martina Elmendorf, of Somerset County, N. J. She was born Sept. 26, 1784, and died Aug. 10, 1851. Dr. Condit was an eminent physician of Morris County, having graduated from the University of Pennsylvania. He was sheriff of Morris County in 1800, and was one of the incorporators of the Morris and Essex Railroad. He served as president of the company until its extension beyond Morristown, when he was succeeded by William Wright, of Newark. He was one of the commissioners of the Trenton Asylum, and an original member of the American Colonization Society. He served also as a commissioner to fix the State boundary line between New York and New Jersey; was a member of the State Legislature from 1805 until 1810—the last two years being speaker of the House. He also represented his district in Congress from 1811 to 1833, except two terms, and in 1837 and 1838 was again elected a member of the Legislature. During these two years he was also speaker of the House. Dr. Condit was a prominent member of the State Medical Society, and was considered one of the best Latin scholars of that day. He was also an extensive reader of English and French literature, and conducted quite a large correspondence with Everett, Clay, Calhoun and Chittenden in relation to the affairs of the general government. He served as a trustee of Princeton College forty years. He died May 26, 1862.

His early religious training was under the careful instruction of his grandmother, the widow of Joseph Condit. This eminent Christian lady is said to have been the religious tutor of the aged missionary in Turkey, the Rev. Elias Riggs.

Paul P. Condit went to Ohio again in 1814, and settled on a farm near Cleveland, where he was married. His wife was a great-granddaughter of Abram Clarke. The condition of Paul's health in later years disabled him for agricultural pursuits and he erected a hotel, which for many years was a popular haven of rest for travelers. He occupied many positions of trust, and maintained a high reputation for honesty, uprightness and kindness to all in need. He died at his home in Euclid, Ohio, in 1856, aged 72. His widow died Jan. 3, 1890.

[60.] LEWIS CONDIT (of Zenas) married, Jan. 13, 1823, Nancy Connet, born March 2, 1802, in Morristown, N. J. He was born at Mendham, N. J., and learned the trade of brick mason and plasterer with his brother-in-law, Amzi Babbitt. In 1836 he moved to Euclid, Ohio, with four children, where his brother, Paul P. Condit, resided. He lived there one year, when he removed to Jersey, Ohio, where he remained until his death, which occurred Nov. 8, 1848. During his residence in Jersey he was an active and consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, of which he was for several years an efficient elder, and his example and counsels were fruitful of much good in the community. His widow, Nancy, resided with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Pierson, at Grinnell, Iowa. She later removed to Riverside, Cal., where she died Dec. 17, 1893.

[64.] DAVID CONDIT (of Timothy) was born in Jefferson County, Ky., in 1795. He worked with his father at the business of tanning and currying, and married, Oct. 31, 1827, Elizabeth Hunt, who was born in Kentucky, June 5, 1800. Of his history the Rev. W. F. Davenport, of Calhoun, Ky., has written: "David Condit professed religion when he was about 20 years old, and joined the Methodist Church, of which he was a consistent and worthy member through life. He belonged to the old times, and to him the days long gone seemed more joyous and prosperous. The preachers of the past generation were giants to him, and he loved to dwell upon their heroic deeds. While feeble, he often expressed a desire to see one more revival in his church before he departed to the good world. He lived to see it, and at its close 'Uncle Davy' departed from among us; like a ripe shock of wheat, he was gathered to the garner above; his end was peace." He died Aug. 20, 1880. His wife died Aug. 20, 1873.

[69.] WILLIAM S. CONDIT (of Timothy) married, Aug. 6, 1833, Jane Brown, born in Kentucky, Sept. 11, 1809; died Dec. 1, 1875. He died in Kentucky, Feb. 8, 1865. The life of William Spangler Condit was an eventful one. He moved with his family from Jefferson County, Ky., to Texas in 1851, and subsequently settled in Lamar County, where he and his wife identified themselves with the Methodist Episcopal Church. He immediately secured a valuable farm, and at the beginning of the Civil War was the owner of several hundred sheep and two or three hundred horses and cattle. Like many others, in the succeeding years of trouble he was the subject of bitter persecution. He was charged with disloyalty to the South because he clung with the spirit of a freeman to his principles. In February, 1862, Mr. Condit was roused at night from a sick bed by a squad of armed and masked men, some of whom were his neighbors, who ordered him to quit the soil of Texas. Hastily gathering his household, he read a portion of Scripture, and they knelt for the last time around that sacred family altar, where he committed the dear ones to the care of a covenant-keeping God. Mounting his best horse, he began the tedious journey to his native State. But little is known of this trip, except that he reached Kentucky in safety. Here he remained until his decease, which took place near the close of the war, at the home of his aged mother. His family knew nothing of his welfare until his death was announced to them after communication was restored between the North and South.

[70.] JACOB L. CONDIT (of Timothy) married, Dec. 31, 1829, Eliza Neely (of Matthew H., of Indiana), born in Vermont, Jan. 28, 1809. She died in Arkansas, Jan. 12, 1881. He died at Booneville, Ark., Dec. 31, 1876. He was a blacksmith, having learned the trade at Cincinnati, Ohio, where he worked six years. After his marriage he continued the business in connection with a farm, near the home of his father, and became noted as a manufacturer of edged tools. He lived for a time in Warwick County, Ind., from whence he removed to Hopkins County, Texas, where he continued to carry on his trade successfully. He soon after became engaged in the operation of a grist and saw mill in Titus County, Texas. This proved to be a remunerative business until the breaking out of the Civil War, when all his hopes and prospects were blasted and his business destroyed. About this time his eyesight failed, and sickness prevailed in his family until 1866, when he removed to Arkansas, where he remained until death. He was a man six feet in height and of corresponding physique. Being possessed of strong intellect and good judgment, he was a wise counselor, and the friend of all needing advice or assistance. During the greater part of his life he was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and held for many years an official position in that church.

[71.] UZAL CONDIT (of Timothy) was born in Jefferson County, Ky., in 1807. He was married, Nov. 1, 1832, to Mary Lindley, daughter of Daniel Lindley, of pioneer fame in Kentucky, and who emigrated to that State from Morris County, N. J., in 1804. She was born Nov. 6, 1810, and died Aug. 26, 1864. He married second, Dec. 8, 1868, Elizabeth T. Kimbley, a widow. He learned the tanner's trade with his father, and was engaged in that business until the close of the Civil War. With his wife he occupied his farm of one hundred and seventy-seven acres near Point Pleasant, Ohio County, Ky. Of his religious character he said: "I am a Methodist, warp and filling; do not chew tobacco, smoke or drink whisky; and all this is no more than any honest man ought to be." He was named for his uncle, Uzal Condit, who moved to Kentucky from Morris County, N. J., with his wife and six children. He died Aug. 29, 1887, near Centertown, Ky.

[230.] MARY V. TAYLOR was born in Ohio County, Ky., Nov. 28, 1851. Her mother was Angeline Condit, daughter of Timothy and Elizabeth Spangler Condit. Her father, Bennett Tichenor, came of one of the oldest and best families in Kentucky, and was a lineal descendant in the eighth generation from John and Priscilla Alden. He was also a cousin of the late I. T. Tichenor, D. D., LL. D., for eighteen years corresponding secretary of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. It is not remarkable that such an ancestry should produce a character of such sterling worth as is expressed in the subject of this sketch. Honesty is the dominant note in her character; added to this is the feminine grace of gentleness, and many other good traits, which combine to form a lovely nature. Wherever she has made her home, she has been pointed out as one of the best women in the community. She was married to Dr. Slade J. K. Taylor, March 24, 1870, moving to Texas soon afterward. Most of her life has been spent in Texas, where they have reared a large family and are now rearing two families of grandchildren. Her husband has a sanitarium (Westmoreland) in the suburbs of Dallas, for the cure of nervous diseases, liquor and drug addictions, and she is of great assistance to him, both in the conduct of the institution and by her personal influence upon the patients there. "The calmness of Mother Taylor's spirit," some of them say, "is as soothing to me as any medicine." She is of a deeply religious nature, a devoted Christian, and member of the First Baptist Church of Dallas, but no preacher. The uplifting work that she does is of the subtle, impersonal kind that brings results. May she live long to bless the world by her wholesome influence.

[76.] REV. MOSES PRUDEN CONDIT (of Uzal), born in Morris County, N. J., married, Dec. 14, 1812, in Kentucky, Sarah Condit [148] (of Byram), who died at their home in Indiana, Dec. 5, 1854.

After the death of several of his children he embraced the doctrines of the Universalist faith, and became a popular preacher in that denomination. He died April 12, 1850.

[93.] REV. THANIEL BEERS CONDIT (of Hiram) was born and reared in Succasunna, N. J., in a home where reverence for parents and for religion were exemplified and given a first place. Ending his school days early, he entered an establishment where leather was manufactured and made into boots and shoes, where he thoroughly acquired the craft of shoemaking. Soon after reaching his majority he was converted and resolutely and openly took his stand for Christ. Having been an ardent lover of worldly pleasure, many were the jibes and predictions of downfall that came from his companions on the benches. To these his replies showed his determination to be true to his new profession, and that he was bent upon serving his Master in saving men.

Taking up studies such as he could manage at the intervals of his work in the shop and in the evening hours, he acquired a fair degree of familiarity with the English classics. To increase his self-education fund, he clerked in stores and taught school in and near Newton and in Hackettstown. In the latter place he spent four years as a teacher, and studied theology under Dr. Joseph Campbell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. During eleven years in schoolhouse, cottage and church prayer meetings, he took every opportunity to "exercise his gifts," and was ordained to the ministry by the Presbytery of Newton in 1837. He preached his first sermon in the Stillwater Church, June 11 of that year, and served said church as pastor forty-four years, laying down his pastorate June 12, 1881, on account of age and declining health. He was a commissioner in three General Assemblies, erected four church buildings during his pastorate and assisted his oldest daughter in founding and maintaining the Stillwater Parish School. His ability to interest, instruct and manage children and young people led him to teach school in his own parish many years with great success. His influence for good is still active, and his memory fragrant in many of the homes and communities of the northern counties of New Jersey.

Though especially solicited to take large charges, he preferred to abide by his first love. He was eloquent and faithful in his presentation of the old Gospel. His recreations were devotional. Besides pamphlets and songs, sacred and secular, he published a quarto devotional book, "Morning, Noon and Night, or Christ in Every Page," and its companion volume, "The Bible Reader's Guide." He married, Feb. 27, 1842, Rebecca J. Shafer (of Isaac), born in Paulina, N. J., Dec. 14, 1814. His wife was his helpmeet. She added to her other consecrated talents what no pastor's wife should be without, patience under burdens and provocations, the wit to be silent when silence is golden, and a strong affection for the children of the parish, being for many years his best primary Sabbath School teacher. He died Jan. 13, 1888. She died Sept. 8, 1889. They sleep in the Morris County Condit family plot in Succasunna, N. J.

[163.] MARTINA L. CONDIT (Condict) (of Dr. Lewis) married, June 1, 1852, Rev. John J. Brandegee, D. D., who was born at New London, Conn., July 25, 1823. He was the son of John and Mary Brandegee, one of whom was of Dutch and the other of French extraction. Both families had long previously settled in this country. Dr. Brandegee spent his early youth at New London, and in 1843 graduated at Yale College with a high reputation as a scholar. He was confirmed by Bishop Brownell at New Haven, at the age of 18. Before graduating he formed the purpose of studying for the ministry, and on Sept. 27, 1843, he entered the General Theological Seminary, at New York City, where he completed his course of preparation, and was ordained a deacon by Bishop Brownell, July 3, 1846, at Hartford, Conn. After his ordination he went with an invalid brother to the West Indies, where he labored for two years. On his return he was ordained to the priesthood, Jan. 24, 1849, by Bishop Henshaw, of Rhode Island, at New London, Conn. At this time he was laboring in the parish of St. Michael, Litchfield, Conn., where he continued until February 4, 1854. He then entered upon his duties as rector of Grace Church, Utica, N. Y., and remained there during life, though repeatedly invited to other attractive fields. In the ten years of service at Utica his labors were abundantly blessed, and to his efforts may be credited the erection of the beautiful edifice now occupied by the parish of Grace Church. The cornerstone was laid in July, 1856, but the church was not opened for divine services until May 20, 1860. The last two years of Dr. Brandegee's labor was frequently interrupted by sickness, which finally resulted in his death April 6, 1864. In 1867 his widow published a volume of sermons which he had preached at different periods of his ministry of eighteen years. They indicate a mind of uncommon intellectuality and breathe a spirit of true devotion to the service of the Master. She died Dec. 11, 1904.

[217.] WILBUR F. CONDIT (of Uzal and Mary Lindley Condit) was born in Ohio County, Ky., July 22, 1840. His early life was spent upon his father's farm and his education was such as was afforded by the common school in the district. This, with his natural ability, proved sufficient for a successful life work. Upon the breaking out of the Civil War he enlisted in Company H, Seventeenth Kentucky Volunteers, and served three and one-half years, being wounded three times. Soon after his discharge from the army he entered into partnership with his father in the tanning business, and later bought the entire business. Soon cheaper and improved methods of tanning rendered the old process unprofitable and he gave it up and engaged in farming, which he continued until his death. He did not accumulate a large stock of this world's goods, but was able to give his children a good start in caring for themselves. While not a member of any church, he revered God and respected all religious faiths. The only organization of which he was a member was his Grand Army Post. He was a bitter opponent of human slavery in any form, and a believer in free speech and an unfettered press. He was an ardent advocate of what he believed to be right and a fearless opponent of the wrong. He was strictly honest, not only in business, but in social and neighborly intercourse. He was temperate in all things, kind and indulgent to his family, and had great faith not only in his immediate family but in the integrity of all who bore the family name. His last illness was borne with patience and fortitude, and he passed away peacefully May 16, 1915. He was married, April 22, 1865, to Agnes Varner, born Sept. 21, 1845, and died Feb. 22, 1884. He married second, Nov. 19, 1885, Rachel M. Rowe, born Nov. 26, 1856. She survives him and resides in Centertown, Ky.

[308.] ANNA MARIA CONDIT (of Rev. Thaniel Beers) was born in Stillwater, N. J. She has been a teacher since she was twelve years of age, when she began in the Sabbath School. In 1863 she founded a parish school in Stillwater, with grades primary, grammar and high, in which she taught eighteen years, having also large classes of music pupils, both instrumental and oral. She prepared many boys for Princeton and other colleges, and many girls for teaching. She has been a lifelong educator in public, private and missionary schools, having taught in Boston, Mass., and in the Woodstock School of Northern India, and subsequently acted as matron for the Wooster, Ohio, Annex for the education of the daughters of missionaries. She has recently retired, in broken health, from public service, but is still the soul and center of an active missionary society in her native village church. She is approaching her seventy-fourth anniversary, Dec. 5, 1916.

[309.] ELIZABETH WILSON CONDIT (of Rev. Thaniel Beers) was a collegiate and private school teacher for many years. One time teacher and missionary in Albany, Ore. She has taught in Sabbath School nearly all her adult years. She is unmarried, and resides with her sister in Stillwater, N. J.

[310.] REV. ELBERT NEVIUS CONDIT (of Rev. Thaniel Beers) was born in Stillwater, N. J., where he prepared for college in the parish school and taught school two years during that period. He took a four-year course in Princeton College and graduated in 1873. Founded and managed for one year the East Millstone Classical High School. Entered Princeton Theological Seminary in 1874. Graduated May, 1877. Received the degree of A. M. from the college in 1876. Licensed by the Presbytery of Newton, May, 1877. Ordained the same day and went to the Far West, taking up missionary work in the Synod of Columbia, which embraced the State of Oregon and the Territories of Idaho, Washington and Alaska. From Oct., 1877, to April, 1879, he had charge of missionary churches in Astoria and Clatsop Plains, Ore. In 1879 he took the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church in Albany, Ore., and served as president of the Albany Collegiate Institute. In 1894 he became president of Occidental College, Los Angeles, Cal. Later he resumed missionary work in Walla Walla, Wash., in charge of the Presbyterian Church, where he remained until his death, June 7, 1900. At the thirtieth anniversary of his college class the historian said of him: "He had a special aptitude for teaching; his administrative abilities were pronounced; his labors as pastor and teacher were characterized by an untiring energy and a sound common sense that made them fruitful." He married, July 23, 1884, Clara Jennie Clark, of Oregon, born Feb. 18, 1860; died Aug. 13, 1907.

DESCENT OF JOHN CONDIT

(OF PETER), ORANGE, N. J.

THIRD GRANDSON OF JOHN, THE ANCESTOR

JOHN CONDIT was born at Newark, N. J., about 1701. He married, at Orange, Joanna Williams, daughter of Matthew, one of the first settlers. This is said to be the first marriage solemnized within the present limits of the Oranges. Early in life he acquired property in what is now the central part of the city of Orange on the south side of Main street, extending west from Centre street. He built the Orange Hotel, probably in 1739, as a license was granted to him that year by the court to keep a public house. This hotel was known then, and for many years thereafter, as the "Condit House," and continued under the management and ownership of different members of the family for nearly ninety years. John's will, on file in Trenton, N. J., was dated Sept. 14, 1780, and in it he named his children Matthew, Ruth, Jemima and Mary. His son Matthew and Jonathan Condit were named as executors, and the witnesses were Nathaniel Condit, Zebulon Jones and Joannah Mackensey. As no mention is made in the will of his wife Joanna, she probably died before its execution. The will was proved June 10, 1783, which is the only record we have been able to find denoting the probable date of his death.

[1.] MATTHEW CONDIT married Sarah Lindsley (of Benjamin, Orange, N. J.). But little is known of his record except the fact that he inherited the estate of his father, and lived either at the Orange Hotel or in its vicinity. In 1785 he deeded one-tenth of an acre of ground on Main street to trustees for an academy building, which was for many years the centre of educational facilities in Orange. On June 10, 1795, he advertised in a Newark paper, announcing "the sale of twenty-three building lots on the main road opposite the meeting house and adjoining the academy." The date of the birth, marriage and death of Matthew and his wife are not preserved.

[64.] STEPHEN HOBART CONDIT, son of John Ogden Condit and Elizabeth Smith, born in Troy Hills, Morris County, N. J., June 13, 1830, married, Dec. 29, 1860, Josephine Ogden, of Troy Hills, born July 22, 1835; died June 18, 1916. He died Jan. 8, 1909. Like his father,

Mr. Condit followed farming until he retired a few years before his death. From a small beginning, through thrift, close application, unquestioned integrity and genuine ability, he came to be recognized as one of the most successful farmers in Morris County. Though modest and retiring, he always took a most active interest in everything pertaining to the common good of his township and county, and particularly in the welfare, financial and moral, of every one, young and old, rich and poor, who lived in his own immediate community. A broad-minded, devout, unassuming Christian gentleman, who knew no caste, no color, no race; whose arm was ever outstretched to the needy, to whom he gave not only of his means but of himself, Mr. Condit was for fifty years actively connected with the Brick Presbyterian Church at Parsippany—twenty-eight years as trustee, ten years as treasurer of the board, and twenty-two years as elder. Mr. Condit is survived by one daughter, Mrs. S. H. Mitchell, of East Orange, N. J., and two sons, Judd Condit, of Troy Hills, N. J., and Harry H. Condit, of Glen Ridge, New Jersey.

DESCENT OF PHILIP CONDIT

(OF PETER), MORRISTOWN, N. J.

FIFTH GRANDSON OF JOHN, THE ANCESTOR

PHILIP CONDIT was born at Newark, N. J., April, 1709. He married Mary Day, who was born in 1713. They lived in Morris County, N. J., and in 1742, at the organization of the First Presbyterian Church at Morristown, he and his wife were among its members, of which church he soon after became an elder. His children were baptized there, and his life was identified with the early years of its existence. While the lineage of his brothers were quite frequently represented in public and civil affairs, as well as in mechanical pursuits, Philip's descendants have been more conspicuous in the church and in society, and have had a continuous representation in the Morristown Church since its organization. Five of the grandsons of Philip were prominent in the early years of Presbyterianism in Western Pennsylvania, and three grandchildren and a great-grandson were among those who laid the foundation of the Presbyterian Church at Jersey, Ohio. A great-grandson, Rev. Philip Condit, was the first Presbyterian minister in a group of several counties in Northwestern Ohio, where he organized four churches, and later in life organized the church at Pleasant Grove, Ore., where he died. His son represented that Presbytery in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in 1883. A large number of the male descendants of Philip have been either ministers, elders or deacons in the church.

Philip purchased from Josiah Stanbrough one hundred acres of land three miles west of Morristown, for "sixty pounds, current money of the Province of New Jersey, eight shillings per ounce." The deed is dated "29th day of November, in the twenty-third year of his Majesty's reign, King George the Second, of Great Britain, 1749." This land in regular descent is part of the farm occupied by his great-grandson, the venerable Sylvester R. Whitehead, now in the ninetieth year of his age. Philip died Dec. 23, 1801, aged 92 years. His wife died Sept. 30, 1785. It is a noticeable fact that of the large male descent of Philip, none are now known to be living in or near their ancestral home.

[13.] DAVID CONDIT (of Jabez) married Rachel Ross, of Washington County, Pa. She was born in 1773, and died Nov., 1846, aged 73 years. David moved to Washington County, Pa., where he resided several years, and was married. After the birth of his two eldest children he removed to New Vernon, Mercer County, Pa., probably in the year 1798. Some other families accompanied them. This locality was then an unbroken forest, the nearest settlement being sixteen miles north, known as the Taylor settlement, and twenty miles easterly was the French Creek settlement, now the city of Franklin. Another settlement embraced a few families in what is now the town of Mercer. Their first summer was spent in clearing a little spot where they intended to make their new home. A small log cabin was also erected during this season. Their first crop was a few bushels of oats and some turnips. Subsistence for the approaching winter being found inadequate for their support, they determined to select one of their number to remain and care for their little herd of stock, while the other members of the company returned to Washington County for the winter. David Condit was the man chosen to remain. Procuring a little corn meal from the nearest settlement, and with the milk furnished by the stock of cattle, together with game procured by his trusty rifle, he passed a comfortable winter in his enforced retirement. The return of the colony in the spring brought three children to David, one having been born during their absence in Washington County. His wife traveled the entire distance of one hundred miles on horseback, using a man's saddle and carrying the little one, less than four months old, on her knee. The following summer this colony was blessed with a bountiful harvest. Twelve children were born, ten of whom grew to mature life, and two are still living. The clothing for all this numerous family was procured on the farm, spun and woven by the members of the household, besides yielding an amount sufficient to procure other commodities needed in the family. Salt then sold in that locality at eight dollars per bushel. David was justice of the peace for many years by appointment of the Governor. Many instances are related of parties coming to 'Squire Condit, as he was always called, with the most bitter feelings of strife and resentment, who, under the mild and Christian advice given them, would finally become reconciled. When nothing but litigation would satisfy contending parties, the trial was conducted with the most solemn dignity and decorum. It is said that no appeal was ever taken from this court to a higher one.

The members of the new colony in Mercer County were Presbyterians, and founded what is now known as the old Fairfield Church, of which David became an elder.

* Sylvester R. Whitehead was elected an elder of the Morristown church in 1832, continuing in active service for twenty-five years. He lived on the farm formerly owned by his grandfather, Philip Condit, three or four miles west of Morristown. His children were Isaac N., d. 1903; Aaron D., d. 1898; Mary and Mary Louisa.

† Ira Condit Whitehead was elected elder of the Morristown church in 1846. He was a prominent jurist and judge. He died August 27, 1867, at the age of 69. He had one child, Mary, who died unmarried.

Pa. Being a man of excellent habits, temperate and prudent, he maintained a robust physique, and was only once laid upon a bed of sickness previous to that which terminated his life. By appointment from the Governor he held the office of justice of the peace for many years. Although by trade a carpenter, the active years of his life were spent in farming. He cleared a spot in an almost unbroken wilderness, built, beautified and adorned a home that stood as a landmark and haven of rest for many a weary traveler. It was here the little colony that emigrated from the same place in New Jersey and settled in Licking County, Ohio, used to stop and refresh themselves as they journeyed to and from their native place. On his arrival in Pennsylvania Jonas immediately identified himself with the Presbyterian Church, known as the united congregations of "Upper and Lower Ten-Mile churches," that were organized about the year 1781 by Rev. Thaddeus Dodd, who was a son of Stephen Dodd, of Mendham, N. J. In 1805 Jonas Condit was elected and ordained a ruling elder of the Lower Ten-Mile organization, and remained such until his death. This organization in the year 1825 built a church on the farm of Jonas, which was known as the "Brick Meeting House." Jonas and his family were eminently efficient in the service of sacred music, and the leadership of the choir in this church has been uninterruptedly held by his descendants since 1843. He was a man of excellent judgment, yet, being distrustful of his ability, never knew his worth; though modest and unassuming he would go, with the courage of a lion, wherever duty called; a devoted Calvinist, he was firmly attached to the doctrines and ordinances of the Presbyterian Church. He died July 14, 1850, aged 81 years, and in the little church-yard near the old brick meeting house rest the bodies of this venerable man and his wife.

[16.] MOSES CONDIT (of Jabez) married, about 1795, Electa Ball, of Morris County. She was the daughter of Samuel Ball (of Caleb, of Caleb, of Caleb, of Edward, the Newark, N. J., ancestor). Moses was a shoemaker by trade. Soon after marriage he moved to Goshen, Orange County, N. Y., where all but the two youngest of his children were born. In the winter of 1805-6 they moved on a sled drawn by a yoke of oxen to what is now the town of Junius, Seneca County, N. Y. Here he worked at his trade, and by diligence and frugality was enabled to purchase land and became a prosperous farmer. Like his father and grandfather, he was a devout Christian, and was permitted to see his children and grandchildren members of the church, and some of them holding official positions in the same. He died at the home of his eldest son, where he spent his later days, Aug. 26, 1844. His wife died a few months later, Feb. 17, 1845.

[17.] REV. IRA CONDIT (of Jabez) was born in Morris County, N. J., in 1772, and married Mary Miller, of Washington County, Pa., in 1800. She was born in New Jersey, Feb. 18, 1781, and died Nov. 6, 1836. Of the early years of Ira Condit but little is preserved. They were spent on a farm and he experienced the hardships incident to all new settlements. In 1798 he emigrated to Sandy Creek, Mercer County, Pa., and settled within one mile of where the Fairfield Church now stands. He made a profession of religion May 10, 1802, and became a member of the Fairfield Church, of which he was afterward pastor. In 1803 he left his farm and moved to Canonsbury, Pa., and commenced his studies for the ministry, where he graduated in 1808. Then he removed to a farm about seven miles from the town of Washington, Pa., and commenced the study of theology under the direction of Dr. McMullen and Rev. George Scott, supporting his family by teaching a school in the neighborhood. He was licensed to preach by the Presbytery of Ohio on Oct. 17, 1811. The first year of his ministry was spent as a missionary among the vacant churches and destitute settlements of Washington County. In 1812 Mr. Condit moved back to Sandy Creek, and after preaching some time in the vacant churches accepted a call from the congregations of Fairfield and Big Sugar Creek, and was ordained Nov. 8, 1814. In this "call"

he was to give the church one-third of his time, and was to receive one hundred dollars annually, one-third to be in cash, two-thirds in provisions. In April, 1827, he accepted a call to the church of Georgetown, and was afterwards installed over the church at Amity. This latter charge was relinquished April 22, 1829. In June of the same year he accepted a call to the church at Cool Spring, and was installed June 24, 1829. In this united charge of Fairfield, Georgetown and Cool Spring he labored until his death, Oct. 24, 1836.

He married second, March 7, 1822, Sarah Beatty, born 1786; died Jan. 29, 1873. He became a member of the old Fairfield Presbyterian Church, Mercer County, Pa., by letter, Aug. 31, 1805, and was ordained elder in 1829, which office he held until his death, May 23, 1845. He was one of the early residents of the region of the Fairfield Church, who laid the foundations of the society of that vicinity, now noted for the integrity and Christian character of its inhabitants.

[22.] ZENAS CONDIT (of Jabez) learned the carpenter's trade in New Jersey with a mechanic named Halsey. He emigrated to Washington County, Pa., in 1800 with Philip Axtell, where he married Eunice Goble, Dec. 11, 1804. She was born Jan. 22, 1787; died Feb. 7, 1857. He removed to the adjoining county of Greene in 1815, where he purchased four hundred acres of land near the line between Greene and Washington counties. He occupied this farm eighteen years, then sold it for twelve hundred dollars and purchased three hundred acres further south, near what is now Nineveh, Greene County. There he remained until his removal to the residence of his son, Sylvester, in Iowa, where he died Dec. 4, 1862. Zenas was ordained ruling elder in Upper Ten-Mile Presbyterian Church in 1825, and remained such until his removal to Iowa. Being a devout student of the Bible, his aptness in using Scriptural phrases is remembered by all who knew him. An eminent divine once remarked that he "feared theological combat with no one but Uncle Zenas Condit." His son, Ira S. Condit, resided on the old farm in Greene County.

[23.] EBENEZER CONDIT (of Captain Zenas) married, in 1789, Mehetabel Burnett, who was born March 15, 1770; died July 28, 1859. He was a shoemaker by trade and owned a small stony farm three miles west of Morristown, where he carried on his business until 1804, when he moved with his family to Cayuga, N. Y., then called "the Lake country." There he engaged in the manufacture of shoes until his death, which occurred in January, 1812. He had two sisters, of whose history but little is known. One of these, called Sally, married a man named Muir, and spent her married life in New York City, where she died. The other, Abigail, married a Connett, and lived in Morristown.

After the death of Ebenezer his widow returned with her children to Madison, N. J., and resided on the old Burnett homestead until her family were grown. She became a member of the Morristown Presbyterian Church in 1799 (previous to her removal to New York), and with three of her children was baptized there. In 1837 she removed to Jersey, Ohio, where she lived with her son, James B., until his removal from Jersey, when she took up her abode with Wickliffe, an older son, where she remained until her death, which took place in 1859, at the age of 89 years. During the last six or seven years of her life she was totally blind, but retained in a remarkable degree her mental faculties to the last.

[50.] MARY CONDIT (of Abner) married, Jan. 11, 1816, Samuel Cozad, born April 6, 1794; died May 23, 1870. She died Sept. 5, 1871. They resided at Cleveland, Ohio. Early in life she formed a strong desire to go West, and in the spring of 1815 removed to Euclid, Ohio, with her married sister, Martha Dickerson, making the entire journey by wagon over the mountains of Pennsylvania. Her marriage to Samuel Cozad occurred in January, 1816, and the following month the newly married couple made the journey back to New Jersey in a sleigh through New York State. They remained in New Jersey till June, when they returned to Ohio and purchased a farm near "Doan's Corners," now East Cleveland, which is a prominent part of Wade Park. Here they remained until the death of Mr. Cozad in 1870. She died a year later at the residence of her eldest child, in her eighty-second year. Mrs. Cozad possessed a strong mind, good judgment, a kind heart and a pleasant disposition. In her later years she was "Aunt Polly" to every one, and those in trouble or poverty always found in her a friend and benefactor.

Samuel and Mary Cozad, with three of their children, were among the small number who organized the Euclid Avenue Congregational Church at Cleveland, Ohio.

[65.] WILLIAM CONDIT (of David) married, Dec. 27, 1821, Margaret Gordon, born in Venango County, Pa., March 20, 1801; died July 4, 1862. William was born in Washington County, Pa., in 1797. Soon after his marriage he erected a sawmill near his father's and began to utilize the dense growth of pine timber then covering that locality (now known as New Vernon Township), floating the lumber in the spring of the year down Big Sandy Creek into the Allegheny River, thence to Pittsburgh, and often to Cincinnati. His home was near his father's, on a farm which he owned, and where he reared his numerous family. He united with the Fairfield Presbyterian Church in 1821, and was ordained elder of that church in 1840, serving as such until his death, which occurred suddenly, Nov. 5, 1859. While riding with a neighbor in a wagon drawn by a spirited pair of oxen a pin about the yoke became loosened. When adjusting this the cattle started suddenly and threw him to the ground, the kingbolt of the wagon striking his head and killing him instantly. The accident occurred a few rods from his house. The session of the old Fairfield Church, on January 22, 1860, adopted resolutions of condolence with the family.

[66.] ALVA CONDIT (of David) married, 1819, Ruth Axtell (of Eliab). He died Jan. 1, 1883. She died March, 1888. They had no children. They lived at different times in Pennsylvania, Indiana and Missouri, and in 1845 removed to Oregon. They were among the organizing members of the first Presbyterian church west of the Rocky Mountains. This church was organized in September, 1846, with four members, Alva and Ruth, William and Mary Gray.

[67.] REV. PHILIP CONDIT (of David) was born in Mercer County, Pa., in 1801. He married, Feb. 2, 1826, Nancy Gordon, born March 30, 1806, who died Jan. 3, 1861. In 1833 he entered his preparatory course at Jefferson College, while his wife provided for the family. After graduating, he was licensed to preach, and was an evangelist in Northwestern Ohio. In 1840 he settled with his family in Hancock County, Ohio, where he remained one year, preaching at points thirty miles distant from each other. He then moved to Wood County, Ohio, and located near the present site of Tontogany, where he soon after organized the churches of Bethel (now Tontogany), Milton (now Milton Centre) and Gilead. He preached for them until 1854, doing also mission work in Lucas and Williams counties. In 1854 he removed to Oregon by wagon, and in December of that year settled thirteen miles southeast of Salem, where he labored as a missionary, dividing his time with other places not remote. In 1856, assisted by Rev. J. A. Hanna, he organized the church of Pleasant Grove, and with his sons was making preparations to build a house of worship when he was suddenly removed by death, Nov. 20, 1856, aged 55 years. His wife survived him five years.

He married second, Mary Limbert, April, 1839, who died Sept. 3, 1884. The early training of John Condit in Western Pennsylvania, among the first settlers in the backwoods, qualified him for the sterner duties of life. At the age of 17 he left home and walked to Buffalo, where he obtained employment as a carpenter. Naturally gifted with a genius in woodworking, he made rapid progress, and regularly sent his wages home to assist in the support of the family. After an absence of several years he returned to Mercer County, Pa., and settled in Georgetown. In 1829 he built the Fairfield Presbyterian Church, being the first frame church in Mercer County. In 1835 he built the Georgetown Presbyterian Church, which is still occupied and is in good repair. Soon after his first marriage he erected for himself a brick residence in Georgetown. He engaged in the cabinet-making business, and subsequently merged it into the manufacture of wagons and carriages, and was quite successful. In 1840 he became associated with his brother-in-law in mercantile trade at Rockville, Pa., and subsequently removed to Georgetown, where he extended his business. In 1866 he retired from business, sold his farm and removed to Girard, Pa., where he died Nov. 27, 1880. Of his career as a citizen, he is spoken of in the highest praise. For a number of years he was a justice of the peace, and was always actively engaged in measures for the elevation and Christianizing of the human family.

[146.] WICKLIFFE CONDIT (of Ebenezer) was born in Morris County, N. J., in 1796. His mother, Mehetabel Condit, nee Burnett, lived to a great age. He learned the trade of a tanner and currier with Job Dodd, of Bloomfield, N. J., and seems to have been much attached to him, as he named his eldest son for him. At about the age of 18 he enlisted in the War of 1812, in the company of Captain John Baldwin, of Bloomfield. On March 14, 1819, he married Julia Samson, daughter of Abram and Chloe Samson, of Madison, N. J., who was born Sept. 25, 1798, and moved to Jersey, Ohio, where he bought of Abner Whitehead ten acres of land on Indian Run, one-half mile northwest of the present village of Jersey. There he erected a cabin and also a tannery, and soon built up a profitable business, to which he added a shoe shop. In both branches he displayed great energy and tact. In November, 1822, while on a visit to New Jersey, his wife died. Sept. 14, 1823, he married second, Nancy Mingis, of Bloomfield, N. J., who was born May 12, 1795. As an interesting incident it may be stated that he traveled in his own conveyance to New Jersey, and took his wife to Ohio, the trip each way occupying about three weeks. His widow later made the trip to New Jersey in a Pullman sleeper in nineteen hours. Mrs. Condit proved a valuable addition to the Jersey Church. Having been successful in his business, Wickliffe, in company with Andrew D. Pierson (his partner in the manufacture of leather and shoes) and Dr. Edward Beecher, opened a store in 1831 near his residence, an event of importance to the community. Dr. Beecher, who was an estimable citizen and physician, died in 1834, a great loss to the vicinity of Jersey. This event necessitated a change in the firm, which soon after merged into that of J. B. Condit & Co., James B., a younger brother of Wickliffe, having come to the settlement from New Jersey in May, 1832. The new store (now located in the village) opened up a market to the farmers to their advantage; to the firm it also proved a profitable investment. Through his force and skill Mr. Condit gradually attained a property which for the time was large. He early became a member of the Jersey Church, and one of its strongest supporters. Public spirited in a high degree, when a young man with small means he aided to build the log church and then the first frame church, and in the latter part of his life was the financial leader in building the commodious church which now stands near the site of the former ones. When the anti-slavery excitement in 1833-4 threatened to drive the pastor, Rev. Charles M. Putnam, from the pulpit, Wickliffe, with Abner Whitehead and others, prevented it. Mr. Putnam remained its pastor for forty years. Mr. Condit was a man of great energy in all he undertook; zealous in his business, he was also zealous in the church.

Of the original members of the Jersey Church none survive. Even the most of the children who were in Jersey at that time are gone; the men and women who bore the brunt of those trying times are all gone; many of them, with the pastor, sleep in the graveyard close to the church they built. Mr. Condit's health declined in 1860. He was attacked by a slow fever in 1862, which resulted in his death Jan. 31, 1863, aged 67 years. His widow, Nancy, lived to an old age. She was a beautiful example of a consistent Christian woman, and a constant attendant at church until one month previous to her death, which took place April 5, 1884, at 89 years.

[152.] JAMES BURNETT CONDIT (of Ebenezer) was born in 1811 at Cayuga Lake, N. Y. He spent the years of his youth with his widowed mother at Bottle Hill, now Madison, N. J., at her father's home, to which she had returned after the death of her husband. James B., at the age of 14, became an apprentice to S. A. Reed, a brickmason in New York City, which occupation he followed there until 1832, when he emigrated to Jersey, Ohio, and the same year engaged in mercantile pursuits with his brother, Wickliffe. The members of this firm, then known as W. Condit & Co., consisted of Wickliffe and James B. Condit, Andrew D. Pierson and Knowles Linnell. July 31, 1834, James was married to Amanda Samson, daughter of Abram and Chloe Samson, of Madison, N. J., born July 15, 1809. She was one of the sisters of the first wife of Wickliffe Condit. In 1836 the firm of W. Condit & Co. dissolved, and the business was continued by James B. and Wickliffe Condit, with E. B. Pierson (a brother-in-law of Wickliffe) as an associate, under the name of J. B. Condit & Co. In 1846 this firm, by mutual consent, dissolved and the business was continued in Jersey by E. B. Pierson & Co. James B. and Wickliffe Condit then opened a dry goods store in the village of Johnstown (seven miles north), associating with them a portion of the time Rodney B. Condit, a son of Wickliffe. To this place James removed with his family, where they lived in prosperity for thirteen years, when the firm dissolved and the business ceased. In 1859 he purchased a farm near Jersey, his former residence, to which he removed in 1860 and, as he says, "followed the happy life of a farmer" until 1869, when he sold his farm and removed to Champaign, Ill., his only daughter and three of his sons having previously settled there. Here he engaged in the grain and coal trade in connection with his son-in-law, Beman C. Beach. In 1878 he retired from this business and removed to Penfield, Ill., taking with him his youngest son, Hobart, and resumed his former calling, that of a merchant, which continued until the autumn of 1883, when he again abandoned the dry goods trade and became a resident of Rochelle, Ill., engaged as a hardware merchant. He united with the Presbyterian Church at Jersey, Ohio, in 1833 with his wife, Amanda, who came by letter from the church at Madison, N. J. On their removal to Johnstown they connected themselves with the Presbyterian Church there, and were very active and useful in elevating that church to a high degree of efficiency, James being one of its elders. He was made an elder of the church at Champaign during his residence there. He died Jan. 31, 1890. She died April 10, 1895.

He engaged in the dry goods trade at Cincinnati, Ohio, and had followed the business since boyhood. He said in one of his letters: "I have witnessed the rise and progress of manufactures in America, and the rise and downfall of more than 50 per cent. of those engaged in mercantile pursuits during a period of fifty years." He was active in every measure of moral reform, and conscientious in politics and business, as well as in the more serious relations in life. He was captain of Company I, Twenty-seventh Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers. His commission was dated Sept. 4, 1862. He died March 16, 1904.

[193.] JAMES W. CONDIT (of Philip) was born in Morris County, N. J. He married, Dec. 20, 1843, Sarah B. Warner, born Nov. 7, 1823; died Aug. 31, 1890. At the age of 18 he entered an apprenticeship to the brick and stone mason trade, and in 1837, at the age of 20, he and his brother, Alfred, emigrated to Wood County, Ohio, where he remained during life, which was one of sobriety and usefulness. In 1843 he settled on a farm near Tontogany and soon after his father, Philip, moved from New Jersey and purchased land in the vicinity. James, by prudence and industry, became possessed of one of the most attractive homes and productive farms in Northwestern Ohio. The death of James caused a vacancy in Wood County difficult to fill. The elements of Puritanism were so blended in his nature that the four cardinal virtues—temperance, fortitude, prudence and justice—were prominent characteristics. James was an elder of the Presbyterian Church at Tontogany, and a few Sabbaths before his death assisted in his last communion on earth. A kind husband, a devoted father and a Christian citizen, beloved by all who knew him, leaving an untarnished name and an unsullied character, he died Nov. 7, 1882, aged 65 years.

He married second, March 1, 1855, Melinda Collyer, born June 12, 1835; died Aug. 1, 1908. He died Nov. 13, 1868. Alfred Condit at 17 made the trip from New Jersey to Wood County, Ohio, on foot, with his brother, James W. Active and industrious in youth, he developed into an energetic man and citizen. He was for many years extensively engaged in shipping cattle and sheep to the New York market. Public spirited and generous to a high degree, he became very useful in the early improvement of that portion of the State. He was an active member of the Congregational Church. His eldest son, Harvey W. Condit, occupied the old farm of his father, Alfred, who had received it from his father, Philip Condit, the title to which was directly from the government.

[206.] MARY ESTHER CONDIT (of Abner) was born in Morris County, N. J. Shortly after her mother's death she was taken to Knox County, Ill., where she lived with relatives until about 1854, when she returned to New Jersey, where she met Dr. Levi W. Ballard, to whom she was married Nov. 4, 1857.

Soon after their marriage they started for Oregon, by way of the Isthmus of Panama, and landed at Portland. From there they moved by ox teams to the Looking-glass Valley, near Roseburg, and settled on a ranch of wild land, where they lived for about three years, and then moved to Wilbur, Ore., where she kept boarders, who were attending the high school, while he was absent at the placer gold mines in Bannock and Boise, Idaho. In the spring of 1865 they moved by wagon to

Puget Sound and settled in a place called Slaughter, afterwards renamed Auburn, about twenty miles south of Seattle. As there was no road to Seattle, all transportation was carried on in canoes on White River. The land was covered with trees and brush, and until they were grubbed out they underwent great hardship and privations trying to raise enough to meet their wants. The land was finally cleared and later a railroad was extended through the property and on the homestead the town of Auburn was laid out. She was the principal in building the first Methodist church in Auburn, in organizing and maintaining a Good Templar lodge for the young, the home being a center for all movements for the public welfare. Dr. Ballard was born in Peterboro, N. H., Dec. 21, 1815. After they settled in Auburn he gave up the practice of medicine. In addition to the work of clearing up the farm he made nearly everything that was used about the house and farm for the first few years. He was a strong believer in education and was the prime mover in building the first log schoolhouse to give the children three months' schooling each year. He was an elder in the Presbyterian Church and built the first church of that denomination in Auburn. He was vice-president of the First National Bank in Auburn. He died Jan. 28, 1897. Some time before her death Mrs. Ballard transferred her church membership to her husband's church, where she continued her Christian activities. She died March 12, 1909, mourned by all her relatives and friends in the community.

When 16 years old he had six months in the Territorial University in Seattle, during which time he took a course in surveying. At the age of 23 he entered the employ of the Northern Pacific Railroad and was actively engaged as an engineer in locating the road across the Cascade Mountains in the summer seasons and studying assaying during the winters. When 26 he made his home in the then unsettled Okanogan country and for a number of years engaged in mining engineering and general business. He laid out the towns of Conconully, Ruby, Oraville and the city of Chelan. In the latter Congress passed a special act deeding to him in trust the land on which the city is situated, he being at that time probate judge of the county. He is still making mining and mining engineering his business, having operated in Alaska, Nevada, Arizona, Washington and British Columbia.

[209.] PHILIP CONDIT (of Daniel Day) was born at Orange, N. J., Dec. 1, 1808. At the age of 17 he commenced to learn the shoemaking trade with Peter Campbell, where he remained two years.

He then spent a short time as a clerk for Aaron Peck, of Orange. In 1828 he became engaged as a clerk for Amos W. Condit, of the same place, and remained in his employ until 1843. During that year he emigrated to Jersey, Ohio, where he engaged in the shoe trade with Elijah B. Pierson, one of the firm of J. B. Condit & Co. In 1846 he became a member of the firm of E. B. Pierson & Co., successors to the last-named firm, which carried on a dry goods business, and also a shoe and harness manufactory. It continued with but little change until the death of Mr. Pierson in 1876, when it dissolved. Philip was a member of this firm during the whole period of its existence, and during the later years of this time he also managed a farm of one hundred acres. His experience in the early years of his business life made him exceedingly cautious and accurate in all his commercial relations. On the 3rd of September, 1834, he was married to Jemima Condit (of Jotham, Orange, N. J.), and on Sept. 3, 1884, with eighty members of the Condit family, they celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, at the residence of their eldest son at Jersey, Ohio. Among those present at this gathering were two brothers and two sisters of Mrs. Condit, five members of the family of Jotham, whose average age was 74 years; and of the family of Mr. Condit there were present two brothers and one sister, whose average age was 63 years. It was an unusual gathering of the Condit family. Philip and Jemima spent the evening of life at the home of their eldest son at Jersey, Ohio, in the enjoyment of a quiet and comfortable old age. He died Nov. 3, 1895. She died July 25, 1905.

[215.] IRA A. CONDIT (of Daniel Day) was born in Orange, N. J. He learned the trade of carriage trimming with William Pickett, of Newark, N. J., where he remained until 1846, in which year he was sent by his employer to sell carriages in New Orleans, La. He soon after returned to New Jersey, and in the autumn of the same year emigrated to Jersey, Ohio, where he became a partner in the firm of Elijah B. Pierson & Co., who were engaged in general merchandise business, and also in the manufacture of harness, boots and shoes. After his marriage in Bloomfield, N. J., April 14, 1847, to Ann E. Dodd, daughter of Josiah Dodd, he returned to Ohio, accompanied by his wife, sisters, two brothers and aged mother. He continued in the merchandise business with different partners, covering a period of forty-five years, finally selling his share to his son, Daniel D. Condit. He remained in the store as bookkeeper until the old building burned in March, 1911, since then living a retired life. During the more active years of his life he was prominently engaged in public business in Licking County, and for several years held the office of county commissioner. He is one who has been sought after for advice, has served as trustee and guardian of funds for minor heirs and orphans, also as administrator of a number of estates. He served as elder in the Presbyterian Church for a number of years until he discontinued active service on account of age and defective hearing. His wife, Ann Elizabeth, was a faithful Christian woman and, although an invalid, confined to her home and mostly to her room for the last ten years of her earthly life, had a great influence in church and home. She was born Sept. 30, 1824, and passed out of this life on Sept. 3, 1875. Mr. Condit is now living on the farm of his daughter-in-law (Mrs. Daniel D. Condit), formerly purchased by him in 1854. In 1909 he fell and fractured his left hip, and three years later had another fall, breaking his right hip, but has survived each shock and is able to get about with the assistance of a cane. His life in this world has nearly ended, and as a candle burning low is gradually flickering out into eternity.

[224.] REV. JOHN GORDON CONDIT (of William) was born in Mercer County, Pa., Aug. 9, 1829. He worked on his father's farm until 21 years of age; graduated from Jefferson College in 1858, and from Western Theological Seminary in 1861; was licensed to preach by Eriè Presbytery in 1860, and ordained to the ministry of the Presbyterian Church by the same Presbytery in 1861. In 1862 he was married to Martha Jane McCurdy, born in Venango County, Pa., Oct. 4, 1837. Six children were born to this union, the oldest dying in infancy. Mr. Condit preached at Sandy Lake, Waterloo and Mt. Pleasant, Pa.; Bethel, Salina and Libertyville, Iowa; Viola and Camp Creek, Ill. In 1879 he located at Fairfield, Iowa, to educate his children, all of whom graduated from Parsons College. For some years he supplied churches at Mt. Zion, Iowa; Cawker City, Kan., and Canon City, Colo. Exposure in home missionary work brought on asthma and necessitated more than twenty years of retirement from the active ministry. These years were spent in the home in Fairfield, where he died Sunday, Oct. 15, 1911, joining the congregation above just as the bells were ringing for the morning church service. During the last years of his life he was closely identified with the work of the First Presbyterian Church of Fairfield. He taught in the Sabbath School, his voice was heard in the prayer meeting, and he brought many to a saving knowledge of Jesus Christ through private conversation and personal work. His sweet Christian spirit led him to become among his brethren "The Beloved." His life story was summed up in the text of his pastor's beautiful tribute, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith." Mrs. Condit still lives in the home in Fairfield.

[271.] EPHRAIM CONDIT (of Isaac) was born in Washington County, Pa., July 29, 1826. When 14 years old his parents removed to Crawford County, Ohio, near Bucyrus. Working on his father's farm, he became a practical and successful farmer. On Dec. 6, 1849, he was married to Emeline Magers, daughter of William Magers and Polly Andrew. She was born in Bucyrus, Ohio, Oct. 29, 1833. Her mother died when she was 2 years old and her father died six years later. She lived with her uncle, Samuel Andrew, until her marriage. In 1864 they removed, with their family, to Henry County, Iowa, where they resided until 1884, and where their youngest children were born. In 1884 they removed to Linn County, Kan., leaving their oldest daughter, Sabina Osborn, in Winfield, Iowa. In 1900 they moved to Beagle, Miami County, Kan., where they resided until God called them. He died March 28, 1911. She died Dec. 12, 1914. They were a happy and contented couple, earnest and faithful Christians. They loved their farm life, and their children bear loving witness to their faithful teaching and example.

[345.] REV. IRA MILLER CONDIT (of John) was born in Georgetown, Mercer County, Pa. In youth he spent two years at Rev. J. S. Travelli's Boarding School for Boys, at Sewickley, Pa. He entered Jefferson College in 1852, and graduated in 1855. It was during the latter part of his college life that he was converted, and joined the home church during the pastorate of Rev. J. M. Shields. In 1856 he entered the Western Theological Seminary, and had nearly completed his course of study when there came an urgent call for a missionary to China. Many of the faculty pointed to Ira M. Condit as the one, and after consultation with his father it was decided that he should go. On the 6th of March, 1860, he was married to Laura E. Carpenter, born April 25, 1837, a talented teacher in the Female Seminary at Granville, Ohio, and at once began the journey to Canton, which was completed in about five or six months. Here, again, a course of study in a difficult language became necessary before anything could be accomplished in the great life work before him. During their stay in Canton he prepared a geography used in the mission schools for thirty years, and later made a series of readers and a dictionary in Chinese and English, used extensively in the mission schools. He was the author of "The Chinaman as We See Him," "The Story of Christ's Return" and several booklets. The degree of D. D. was conferred upon him by Hastings College, Nebraska. In 1865 it became necessary for them to return to this country on account of Mrs. Condit's failing health. They spent one year in California, and then came to Lima, Ohio, where she died Dec. 5, 1866. Mr. Condit subsequently went to Girard, Pa., where his parents and only sister then resided, and was stated supply of the Presbyterian Church there. He remained three years, when he received an urgent request from the Board of Foreign Missions to return either to China or to the Chinese in California. He obeyed the call and went to California. After laboring there for two years he was married, April 2, 1872, to Samantha Davis Knox, born Aug. 27, 1837, who had been a teacher in various schools of note, and who proved herself a most earnest and useful missionary. Their missionary life in California was spent in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland and Berkeley, where they last resided. She died Aug. 18, 1912. He died April 25, 1915.

[387.] EZEKIEL C. CONDIT (of Jabez, of Ezekiel, of Jabez, of Philip, of Peter, of John), was born in Mercer County, Pa., March 24, 1845. His mother was Ruth Axtle Scott, a member of the prominent Scott family of Western Pennsylvania. At the age of 17 years he enlisted as a soldier in the Civil War, in Company C, Nineteenth Regiment, Iowa Volunteer Infantry. He passed through twenty-two hard fought battles and two sieges—those of Vicksburg, Miss., and Spanish Fort,

Ala.—and received but one scratch from the bullets of the enemy. At the close of the war, on the banks of Mobile Bay, he was converted and upon returning home united with the Presbyterian Church, and after attending college for two years and teaching one, he entered the work of the American Bible Society, and for 12 years labored as a clergyman in that work, when he retired and engaged in business in Kansas City, Mo. After 10 years of close application he found his health failing, and in 1890, on the advice of his physician, he removed to the mountains of Colorado, and after preparation for such work, he engaged in mining, and now has charge of a strong company, of which he is the largest stockholder. On Sept. 28, 1868, he was married to Mary A. White, a daughter of William D. White, of Mercer County, Pa., who was born Aug. 16, 1847. She has truly been a faithful, loving wife, and they have a nice home for their old age in Denver, Colo.

[388.] WILLIAM DAVIDSON CONDIT (of Jabez) was born June 19, 1847, in Mercer County, Pa. His boyhood was spent on his father's farm and as a student in public school and academy in Morrow County, Ohio, and in Washington County, Iowa, and his early manhood was as teacher, music teacher and principal of city schools in New Boston, Ill., and Wapello, Iowa. In 1875 he engaged in the book publishing business in Burlington, Iowa, and in 1882 removed his business to Des Moines, but sold it in 1894 to engage in developing and manufacturing. In 1903 he removed to Philadelphia, Pa., and in 1907 to Wilmington, Del. In Philadelphia he equipped a shop and developed and patented several automatic mechanisms of merit for rapid fire guns, including the Savage Automatic pistol, in the manufacture and sale of which he is interested. He married, Nov. 3, 1870, Rhoda M. Glasgow, born Jan. 13, 1847, daughter of William Madison Glasgow and Margaret Ann Wright, of Washington County, Iowa. He served as ruling elder in the Presbyterian Church in New Boston, Ill.; the Central Presbyterian Church of Des Moines, Iowa, and the West Presbyterian Church of Wilmington, Del. He and his beloved wife are now members of the Emanuel Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles, where they are enjoying retired life in the milder climate of Southern California.

Berger, who died in the army during the Civil War. She is a daughter of Martha Condit (of Jotham). His entire life was spent on the farm on which he was born. He and his wife were most hospitable and their home was ever open to the many friends and relatives who delighted to visit them. He had a strong love for the family name and ancestry, and without his able assistance and hard, faithful work, the 1885 edition of the family record would not have been compiled and published. He was an elder in the Presbyterian Church in Jersey. He loved the church, and service to humanity was the keynote to his life, which ended here Sept. 15, 1913. In the words of a lifelong friend, "We recall him without sorrow, for we hold that sorrow for one who plays his part well and leaves this stage with dignity is a shameful folly; at any rate, so long as the world retains the measure of his good work and so long as he lives enshrined in our memories, so long he lives immortal."

[517.] FILLMORE CONDIT (of Stephen J. and Catherine) was born Sept. 4, 1855, in Roseland, N. J. He had limited school advantages, but inherited health and a love for reading, and early learned that it is possible to work without being unhappy. His first employment was on his father's farm, then carrying papers during part of the Civil War, and in the village store beginning in 1867. In 1869 he worked in a Caldwell sawmill, and from 1870 to 1873 in the meat business and on a railway being constructed in Verona. From 1873 to 1879 he was employed in a Newark store, and during this time invented a fastener for refrigerator doors which came into general use. From 1879 to 1890 he had a meat and produce market in Newark, manufactured hardware, and had extensive real estate interests in East Orange and Arlington. March 30, 1881, he married Ida Francis Rafter, born in Newark, N. J., Nov. 19, 1858, and they had four children, Jane, Everett, Jessie and Donald, and adopted another, Clarence Neary. In 1890 he removed with his family to Verona, and while there gave much time and thought to local public interests, giving an attractive park to the community and serving as a member of the Essex County Board of Freeholders. Removing to California in 1899, he became interested in the oil industry and later had charge of the Eastern business of one of the largest petroleum companies. He now resides in Essex Fells, N. J., and is connected with several business enterprises, steamship, oil and banking, and is serving as chairman of the executive committee of the National Anti-Saloon League, president of the American Issue Publishing Company, president of the Hospital for Women and Children of Newark, and president and treasurer of the board of trustees of the Verona Methodist Episcopal Church. He is intensely interested in the family history and has served as president of the Condit Family Association, the annual reunions of which have been held at his home on several occasions. His interest in the revision of the family record is largely responsible for that work. Early in life he developed some talent as a speaker and writer. A leaflet of his, "Silver Prophecies," and a pamphlet, "The Relation of Saloons to Insanity," attracted wide attention. A friend's opinion was expressed by Rev. J. A. Hensey, D. D., in the dedication of his book, "Poverty and Preaching": "To Fillmore Condit, whose genial smile, broad sympathies, Christian benevolence and constant friendship have been appreciated through the years, this little book is dedicated by the author."

[1041.] FILLMORE EVERETT CONDIT (son of Fillmore and Ida R.) was born in Newark, N. J., April 15, 1883. He attended school in Newark, Verona and Montclair. In 1899, owing to his ill health, his parents removed to Santa Paula, Cal. He worked for a time at Olivelihoods, a great fruit ranch, and then resumed his school work and graduated from the Santa Paula High School in 1901. Returning to New Jersey, he entered Stevens Institute and graduated in 1905. After graduation he had a short European trip and then was employed at electrical engineering in New York City several years, and later was borough engineer of Verona and engaged in large real estate developments in Caldwell. Nov. 28, 1906, he married Grace S. Cole, of Walpack Centre, N. J., born Sept. 24, 1881.

March 27, 1911, he died suddenly at his home in Verona. Places, dates, employment, convey nothing of Everett Condit to those who knew and loved him. At school, home, church, work; as son, husband, friend, neighbor, he was faithful, loving, sympathetic, industrious, true. The closing of places of business and a remarkable gathering at his funeral service testified grateful appreciation of innumerable acts of kindness and helpfulness on his part, recognition of his high character and ideals and deep and lasting regret that a life giving so great promise of unselfish service should have ended so soon. One who knew him well said: "Never have I seen a young man who had such a grip upon every department of church life as did this young man. Never in any place have I seen a young man have such a grip on the civic life of the community." He had been with the Nazarene and learned of him.

Part VI.

DESCENT OF ISAAC CONDIT

(OF PETER), ORANGE, N. J.

SIXTH GRANDSON OF JOHN, THE ANCESTOR

ISAAC CONDIT was born at Newark, N. J., in 1711 or 1712. He married and lived on the west side of Main street, east of Centre street, Orange, N. J. It is not known whom he married, as there seems to be no record concerning him or his wife. He was living in 1754, as Rev. James Hoyt, in his History of the First Presbyterian Church (or Mountain Society) of Orange, states that Isaac Condit, with others, was credited with work done in demolishing the first meeting house. He probably died in middle life. None of the male descendants of Isaac remain in their ancestral home.

[124.] WILLIAM C. CONDIT (of Elias R.) was born in the village of Rubicon, Dodge County, Wisconsin, Feb. 11, 1862. He went with his parents to Rock Elm, Wis., in June, 1867, and is one of the pioneer settlers of that place. He formed a partnership with his father in the handling of general merchandise in the year of 1884 and continued said partnership until 1907, when he succeeded his father in the business, which he continues at the present time. On April 26, 1888, he was married to Mary Fox (of Sylvester J.), of Rock Elm. She was born in Woodland, Wis., Aug. 14, 1864. In politics Mr. Condit has been a lifelong Republican. He represented his town on the county board for six consecutive years, and has served in most all of the town offices. He was appointed postmaster of Rock Elm in 1884, and held same for two years, when he was superseded by Cleveland's administration. He was again appointed postmaster in 1904 and still holds the office. Mr. Condit, being a pioneer, naturally has experienced all sides of life. Coming to Rock Elm when the early settlers were poor, he has lived to see the country grow into a prosperous community, and is now enjoying the fruits of this growth.

FOR convenience the following Index has been made out separately for each Part. The pages given after those bearing the name of Condit, refers to their birth, and as each are numbered, no difficulty will be found in tracing the further history of the family. Where children are known to have died under five years of age, their names do not appear in the Index.

In classifying the names of persons other than Condit, those only have been indexed who married into the Condit family. The names of the children can usually be found immediately following that of their parents.
